Public Utilities and Reapportionment Bills Introduced and Sent to Committees

Assembly Handles 17 Measures; Senate Clears Preliminaries, Then Adjourns

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 28.—The public utilities bill, drafted by Attorney Max Thelen, of the state railroad commission, was presented to the Assembly at the special session of the legislature today by W. A. Sutherland of Fresno. This is the measure giving to the railroad commission very much broadened powers. It met with vigorous opposition at the hearings of the commission held to discuss its provisions.

The bill is one of the two most important issues before the special session, the other being legislative reapportionment of the state. It was referred to the committee with sixteen other bills offered today in rapid order, immediately after the assembly convened. The House then recessed until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

AMENDMENTS OFFERED.
Among the other measures offered and referred were four dealing with woman suffrage, completing the work of the recent constitutional amendment, all offered by G. H. Harland of Marin county. One of the four provides for a closer restriction of actual registration in order to avoid some of the difficulties through inexperience encountered recently in Los Angeles and in Marin county.

Assemblyman F. M. Rutherford of Truckee offered his bill providing for congressional reapportionment of the state; Majority Leader Bohnett offered his bill providing for the reapportionment of equalization districts; D. W. Mott of Ventura offered a measure extending the state building and loan commission powers similar to those exercised over banking institutions by the state banks' superintendent. W. D. L. Held of Ukiah offered four measures putting into effect the recall, initiative and referendum amendments.

PUBLIC UTILITIES.
The public utilities measure also came up in the Senate, being offered by L. G. Burton of San Francisco. It was followed by two bills, offered by Louis H. Roseberry of Santa Barbara supplementing the industrial accident board measure favored by him at the regular session. They provide for an educational campaign and are designed to pave the way for state supervision of private insurance companies.

A bill amending the political code, providing for the addition of two ballot clerks to the present force where two voting machines are used and eliminating the ballot clerks where the machines are installed, was offered by Senator Hare of Fruitvale, and the Senate adjourned until tomorrow morning.

PATRONAGE REDUCED.
The patronage matters of the special session of the legislature brought by the statutory limitation of its running expense for each house to $200

MR. ADOLPH UHL, 1712 OAKLAND AVENUE, PIEDMONT, CAL.
MY DEAR MR. UHL—YOU MAY HAVE THE YEW TREE WHICH YOU SAW AT THE DINGEE PLACE. HOWEVER, AS WE HAVE NO MAN TO TAKE SAME UP, YOU WILL HAVE TO ATTEND TO THE NECESSARY TAKING UP AND TRANSFERRING OF THE TREE. PLEASE SHOW THIS LETTER TO THE GARDENER AT THE PLACE AS YOUR AUTHORITY. NO CHARGE WILL BE MADE FOR THIS TREE.
YOURS TRULY,
THE REALTY SYNDICATE.
BY C. A. DINSMORE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—A beautiful English yew tree of great age and value by reason of its rarity, given to Adolph Uhl, wholesale dealer in wallpaper, by the Realty Syndicate, was responsible for a collision on the Dingee estate in Hays' canyon last Sunday between a handful of gardeners on the one hand and an army of quarrymen on the other, and the aftermath will undoubtedly be a suit at law with John Henry Spring, the Fruitvale, Berkeley and San Francisco millionaire, as the defendant.

Spring purchased between three and four thousand trees from the Realty Syndicate, but, according to Uhl, the yew tree, which alone was of special value, was not included in the purchase of the Fernwood trees. It was the yew tree, however, that the banker had his eye upon because he had the mate to it on his place at Fruitvale and he felt that the two would go handsomely together. Last Sunday was chosen by Uhl to carry out the terms of the permission given him by the Realty Syndicate to remove his tree, and with six gardeners he was engaged in boxing it when Spring approached, saw him at work and telephoned for his own force. They came after the precious yew had been removed from the ground and was actually in Uhl's possession.

UHL PROTESTS.
"When I had it already and boxed he came and took it from me," protested Uhl this morning, when interviewed by a TRIBUNE representative.

The latter will remain where they are at present assembled, unless it should be necessary for them to advance so as to enforce Russia's wishes.

Terrible Slaughter Marks the Fighting Going On in City of Nanking

Foreign Warships Draw Out of Range of Threatened Bombardment

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Terrible slaughter has marked the fighting at Nanking, according to a cablegram received today by the Chinese daily paper here. The report says that 3500 regular soldiers and 300 civilian volunteers have been killed.

The revolutionary navy is preparing to bombard the suburb, Shia Kwan, which is occupied by the Manchus.

The Chinese daily paper also has word that the governors of Shanghai and Hoanghai have wired Prime Minister Yuan Shi Kai that they have repudiated the republican government set up in those provinces.

It is stated that a revolutionary force of 4000 has left Canton for Hankow.

Bombardment of Nanking Imminent

NANKING, China, Nov. 28.—Some fighting has occurred to the northward of the city. A bombardment is imminent. There is reason to believe that Lieutenant General Feng Kwo Chang, commander of the imperial troops, has discovered a treacherous plot to open the city gates. Much shooting has been heard inside the city. All foreigners, except the Japanese consul and his guard, have departed. The viceroys of the province and the Tatar general are reported to have returned to their yamens from the Japanese consulate, where they had taken refuge.

All the foreign warships have withdrawn out of range.

Hankow Occupied by Loyal Troops

PEKING, Nov. 28.—Lieutenant General Feng Kwo Chang, commander of the imperial troops of Hankow, telegraphed today that he occupied the whole of the city of Han Yang at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Wu Chang, who alone was of special value, was not included in the purchase of the Fernwood trees. It was the yew tree, however, that the banker had his eye upon because he had the mate to it on his place at Fruitvale and he felt that the two would go handsomely together. Last Sunday was chosen by Uhl to carry out the terms of the permission given him by the Realty Syndicate to remove his tree, and with six gardeners he was engaged in boxing it when Spring approached, saw him at work and telephoned for his own force. They came after the precious yew had been removed from the ground and was actually in Uhl's possession.

There is much jubilation in official circles over the sudden success of Lieutenant General Feng Kwo Chang. The merchants are overjoyed at the prospect of a resumption of business and the re-establishment of order with the removal of the terrible menace to the lives of foreigners in the interior of the country.

COMPANION OF DEAD ALAMEDAN REFUSES TO REVEAL HIS IDENTITY

WOMAN OF MYSTERY BURIED

Rich Associate of Mrs. Lydia Micheli Discloses Her Identity

Authorities Keep Secret Name of Man Who Was in Fatal Auto Ride

PATERSON, N. J., Nov. 28.—A permit was issued today for the burial here of the mysterious woman killed in an automobile accident near Lincoln Park, N. J., a week ago Sunday and who until yesterday was known only as "Mrs. Wm. C. Whitney." As this identification seemed incorrect the county authorities held up the funeral until a well-to-do New Yorker, formerly of the West, came forward last evening with the information that the victim was a widow from Alameda, Cal., who for some time had been making her home in New York.

He was with her at the time of the accident and escaped uninjured, but he intended to keep his name out of the affair until he learned that the funeral could not proceed without further identification. Expecting a promise that his name would not be revealed this man said that the woman was Mrs. Lydia Marchela (or Micheli) Whitney of Alameda. Almost immediately news came from the California town that she was Mrs. Lydia Gertrude Micheli of that city and although there are discrepancies in the two names the authorities were sufficiently satisfied regarding the identity to permit the burial.

At the time of the accident the man who was with Mrs. Micheli gave the name of W. C. Whitney, and it was understood by the police that he was her husband.

RECEIVES TELEGRAM.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 28.—The woman who died in Paterson, N. J., from injuries received in an automobile accident was Mrs. Lydia Gertrude Micheli of this city. Her son, Nassim Micheli, received a telegram Saturday night informing him of his mother's death, but giving no details.

According to her son, Mrs. Micheli, who was a widow, 47 years of age, went to New York about two months ago. Micheli intended to join her in a few months. He is employed here as a draftsman at the United Engineering works.

Mrs. Micheli was born in England. She has acted as traveling companion for a number of people, among them Miss Garrett of Santa Rosa, with whom she made a trip around the world.

Mrs. Micheli said today: "My mother went to New York two months ago to engage in business. I received letters from her regularly. She said that she was stopping at the St. James hotel in New York with an elderly woman, Mrs. L. Whitney. No mention was made in any of her letters about a Mr. Whitney. My mother was 47 years old and settled in her ways. "Saturday morning I received a telegram informing me that my mother had been badly injured. A few hours later I received another telegram telling me that she was dead. I wired for full particulars. Saturday evening I received a telegram telling me that all arrangements had been made for my mother's funeral. Who made the arrangements I do not know, and I am trying to find out. My mother had no intimate friends in New York, or in this country, that I know of. I have engaged an attorney to investigate the matter, as I am in a state of uncertainty as to just how my mother came to her death. I had planned to join her in New York in a few months."

SENSATION BREAKS IN SOUTH

Man in Employ of McNamara Defense Arrested by State's Detective

Accused of Attempt to Corrupt George N. Lockwood, Prospective Juror

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—In the midst of a lull in the trial of James B. McNamara for the fatalities resulting from the Los Angeles Times explosion came today the sensational arrest of Bert Franklin, a detective in the employ of the defense. He faces a charge of bribing a prospective juror, G. N. Lockwood.

District Attorney John Fredericks announced the theory of the state to be that Franklin gave to Lockwood $500 as advance payment for hanging the jury and turned over to C. E. ("Cap") White, who was with Franklin, $3500 to be paid at the end of the trial.

WIFE AGITATED.

Franklin was booked at the jail on suspicion. He received a call this afternoon from his wife, who was greatly agitated, and Leconte Davis, attorney for the McNamara brothers. The visitors were accompanied by Detective George Home, one of the officers who participated in the arrest.

"This is a frame-up, you can take it from me," said Attorney Davis when he left the jail. "We will defend Franklin unless we are too busy, in which case we will get somebody else."

"How does Franklin account for the money?" was asked.

"I did not ask him how he accounted for it," said Davis.

"I'm going to have a long talk with him tomorrow," he said, and he scurried off to arrange for bail.

It was learned today that Franklin, White and Lockwood were deputy sheriffs together years ago.

Soon after being taken to jail Franklin gave out a statement.

"I admit this looks somewhat bad," he said, "but a mistake has been made. I am not worrying. As soon as the district attorney makes his investigation he will see how little there is to this and I will be released."

Lockwood and White also were arrested, but Franklin was the only man held.

Announcement of the arrest was made to Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the defense, and Leconte Davis, by a reporter, as they sat in Judge Walter Bordwell's court listening to the preliminary examination of talesmen of the panel of which Lockwood was a part.

They left the courtroom immediately. In the corridor Davis paused to express the belief in Franklin's innocence.

"He has been working for us, getting information on prospectively," he said.

Kills Wife, Mother, Two Children, Sister and Self

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Ignaphia Ploshia, a storekeeper, killed his wife, his mother, his sister and his two children, then shot himself to death in the rooms back of his store at Lodi, N. J., today.

Ploshia had quarreled with his family and had been away for a week. He returned today and went to the store. A customer who entered afterward found the six corpses. The man used a revolver and each cartridge counted for a life. Ploshia's corpse lay nearest the door. Between him and the living-room at the back lay the body of his wife. In the next room were the other two women and in the bedroom, the two children, aged 4 and 6.

was quickly settled today, the caucus program in the senate going through without a word of protest. In the assembly, however, Assemblyman Milton Schmidt of San Francisco moved to make a special order for 2 o'clock today of the report of the special committee, consisting of the speaker, speaker-pro-tem and Assemblyman Bliss of Sacramento, appointed to decide upon the attaches to be appointed. Schmidt declared that he wanted to see who was getting the benefit of that $200 a day; and on the vote which followed eleven members voted with him and sixty-six against. The report of the committee then was adopted, 70 to 4, and the patronage trouble which created a good deal of talk yesterday was over.

It was upon Schmidt's declaration that he desired to offer two resolutions this afternoon that the recess was taken until 2 p. m. instead of adjournment until tomorrow. He said later that they would have to do with the Panama-Pacific exposition.

FOR WOMEN VOTERS.
California's women voters are to be relieved of a hitherto embarrassing formality in registration. If a bill introduced in the assembly today by Harlan becomes a law, Harlan's measure provides "that over 21" shall be a sufficient answer to the age interrogation at registration. The bill is one of a quartet offered by Harlan, all of which deal with the suffrage laws and smooth the way in detail for the feminine voter. They deal with the specific language of the election laws which it is proposed to amend in accordance with the recently adopted equal suffrage amendment.

The afternoon session of the Assembly was extremely brief. Two routine bills were presented, followed by Schmidt's Panama-Pacific resolutions. The second of these provided for the placing upon all state printed matter of the exposition stamp and slogan. Schmidt asked immediate consideration for it but was opposed by Assemblyman Hinkle of San Diego, who asked that it be referred to the committee. Hinkle said that while San Diego was interested in the San Francisco exposition it also had an exposition of its own on hand which needed publicity.

Schmidt replied that he was willing to have the matter go to the committee on the suggestions that possibly there was some legal bar to the proposal the resolution was referred to the committee on judiciary. The Assembly then adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The wagon and team were not seriously damaged, as the emergency brakes of the train were applied as the collision occurred. jurors," Davis said, frankly. "I have known him for a long time and am sure he would not do anything like that. It's absurd."

Attorney Darrow refused to discuss the case.

Franklin, who was formerly a United States deputy marshal, was taken to jail and $4000 in gold certificates were stacked up on the desk of District Attorney Fredericks.

The trailing of Franklin began two weeks ago and after many hours of shadowing by county detectives his arrest today culminated.

On a street corner in the heart of the wholesale district by appointment Franklin came early today with White, an acquaintance, to meet G. N. Lockwood, whose name was drawn on the venire of fifty, the personnel of which was announced last Saturday. Lockwood had not yet received his subpoena, but information that he had been drawn for jury service is alleged to have been transmitted to him by Franklin and White.

SLEUTH IN DISGUISE.
When the three men gathered no one who looked like a detective or watchman was in evidence, but slouching against a telephone pole was an under-sized individual, attired in corduroys and a dark soiled coat. A felt hat somewhat broken covered his sandy hair, and he gave the appearance of a day laborer. He looked on from the group, but listened intently.

In a nearby store front stood Samuel L. Browne, chief of the state's department of investigation, his eyes fixed on the people at the corner.

What took place in the conversation among the three men was revealed in court, accordingly. District Attorney Fredericks, but it was asserted that in attempting to induce Lockwood to vote "not guilty" against McNamara, Franklin boasted that he already had bribed two of the permanently sworn jurors.

MAY BE PERSUADED.
This alleged assertion, even District Attorney Fredericks does not regard seriously, believing it to be merely an instrument of persuasion by which Franklin hoped to indicate to Lockwood that he would not be alone in his task of converting the remaining jurors to his side.

After a few minutes of conversation at the street corner Browne and a squad of detectives burst forth from their places of concealment. They timed their move to what they declare to have been the moment of arrest of transfer of the defendant.

According to Browne's story, when Franklin arrived at the place he had $4000 in currency. Five hundred, Browne says, he saw him give to Lockwood and the other $3500 he transferred to a man named White, who was to be taken care of until after the trial, when White was to give Lockwood the remainder.

As Lockwood and White, according to Browne's story, were stuffing the money into his trousers pockets the arrests were made. The section clutched Franklin by the shoulder and other detectives took his two associates in tow.

HANDS IN POCKETS.
"Keep your hands in your pockets," commanded Browne to all three prisoners as he hustled them to the top floor of the Hall of Records, where District Attorney Fredericks sat.

In the presence of the district attorney all the three men were allowed to take their hands from their clothes and immediate search disclosed $3500 on White's person and $4000 on Lockwood's. The section attorney decided at once to liberate both Lockwood and White, but to make formal charges against Franklin. The decision not to prosecute Lockwood or White was taken to mean that they would be witnesses for the state in the court proceedings against Franklin. Franklin went silently to the county jail in company with the detectives.

District Attorney Fredericks received newspaper men with his hands full of yellow bills.

"They were caught in the act," he said. "We have corroborative evidence of everything that has happened. We have been watching both Franklin and White for two weeks. Franklin claimed to have bribed two sworn jurors, but I don't believe it. 'Bert Franklin has been employed as a detective for the defense for some time. He offered Lockwood $4000 to vote 'not guilty' when he should be selected on the jury and he was to qualify himself furthermore by his questions and answers in court."

Franklin, Attorneys Davis and Darrow said later in the day, had not communicated with them. Darrow had Franklin about four months ago and he is said to have been in charge of a number of other investigators employed by the defense. Neither attorney made any effort to reach him. Darrow said he had not heard from the district attorney's office, or any one else except newspaper men about the affair. Reports of sensational developments in connection with sworn jurors would occur at opening of court in the afternoon and in the advance by District Attorney Fredericks that they would appear as witnesses for the state. District Attorney Fredericks just before the afternoon session of the McNamara trial began.

in his office. "The tree was mine, it was actually in my possession. Had it been still in the ground there might have been some dispute over it, but it was in my possession and was taken from me by superior numbers. To think that in this twentieth century a man can come and take away another man's property by force. It is outrageous, but the end is not yet. I am going to have satisfaction. This is only chapter one of the episode."

SHOWS A SHERIFF'S BADGE.
"I was engaged in transplanting the tree when Spring came and asked me what I was doing. I told him I was taking it and he replied, 'You'll never get away from here.'"

"We went on with our work and pretty soon a man named Jones came with four others with him. He had a deputy sheriff's badge, which he displayed. He said, 'Mr. Spring, telephoned me that you had no right to take away this tree.'"

TOOK OFF HIS BADGE.
"I asked him what his authority was and whether he was acting for Sheriff Barnett, but he said he was not, and I told him that he ought not to have used his badge then, so he took it off and stood around waiting. There were only five of them and there were six of us, and we could have fought it out with them, if there had been no guns in the party, but pretty soon a wagon came along with more men and then the wagon men and soon we were far outnumbered and they took the tree. Spring was there and took part in it. He came up just before they left and said to me, 'You'd better put a board under the tree. Then he told them in his automobile while they took the tree over to Fruitvale. He had no right to the tree and he knew it. Why, when he went and bought those trees they told him to remember the yew tree is not included. You can't have the yew tree. I tell you, he just came there and took it after I had it in my possession.'"

SEES TROUBLE AHEAD.
Spring admits freely that the tree was given to Uhl by the Realty Syndicate, but he also claims it was sold to him. He admits the overpowering numbers in the Pernwood property of Dingle and he admits wanting the tree very much because of its great age and its value and also he expects that the end is not yet. He said:

SPRING'S STORY.
All this was said jocosely. When Spring was asked how long ago he had made the purchase, he replied about three months ago.

"They sold me every tree on the place," he continued. "Uhl was trying to take away the yew tree on Sunday because he thought I couldn't reach him. I went there and saw him and I determined I didn't want to have any trouble, so I knew if I could get a good many men there wouldn't be any trouble. I've got a quarry over there and I just got about sixty quarrymen and they came down and we took the tree away. It was my tree, wasn't it? Well, that is all there is about it. Uhl says that this is only chapter one, we may look for further developments."

The revolutionaries at Hankow have asked for a three-day armistice in which an attempt will be made to secure the consent of the other provinces to the acceptance of the imperial government's terms, including the preservation of the Manchuria dynasty.

The government has asked the American Presbyterian missionary, Dr. Charles Lewis, at Pao Ting Fu, to improvise hospitals for the wounded who are being brought in.

Makes Attempt on Life of American
HAVANA, Nov. 28.—Major General Leonas Del Castillo, ex-minister of Mexico and former commander in the insurgent army, made an attempt last night to kill George M. Bradt, an American, proprietor of the Havana Post. The attempt was the outcome of strictures on the veterans' association, which appeared in the Spanish edition of the Post.

The general was disarmed as he leveled his pistol and before he could fire. Chief of Police Aguirre ordered the general's arrest.

REAL BEES BUZZ IN BONNETS OF FIREMEN

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—That fighting fire, not bees, is their principal occupation, is the opinion of three members of Truck Company No. 3 today, following an attack on them by a swarm of angry honey gatherers while they were checking a blaze on the roof of the Huntington Hall school. The smoke drove the bees from the building and the firemen became the objects of wrath.

URGES FEDERAL LICENSE.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Seth Low, president of the National Civic Federation and former mayor of New York, today gave to the interstate commerce commission committee of the Senate his personal views as to the best methods of controlling trusts. He urged the federal license of all interstate corporations, giving them permission to incorporate with a settled charter if they so desired.

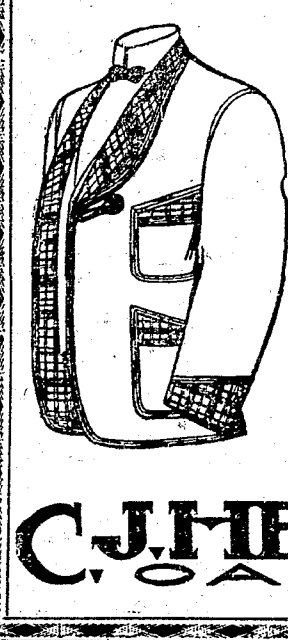

Low suggested the appointment of a federal trade commission to look after the organization and the acts of companies operating in more than one state.

NEWBRO'S HERPIDIDE

Did Not Disappoint.

Don't become discouraged simply because your hair falls, and is thin, weak and wispy until you have tried Herpidide. "I first began to use Newbro's Herpidide three years ago, after a spell of fever, which caused me to become almost bald. Herpidide soon restored the quantity and natural color of my hair. I feel lost without a bottle of Herpidide in the house." Thus Mrs. Anna C. Layn, 821 Second Ave., Louisville, Ky., tells in her own words how she lost her hair, and how she got it back. Mrs. Layn's experience has been duplicated a thousand times and can be repeated thousands more.

Newbro's Herpidide keeps the hair and scalp in a perfectly healthy condition. When the hair-papilla has not been destroyed by the ravages of the dandruff germ, the hair will resume its suspended growth.

Newbro's Herpidide kills the dandruff germ and checks falling hair. The itching of the scalp stops almost instantly. Others imitate and make similar claims, but the original dandruff germ destroyer is Herpidide.

Applications of this wonderful remedy may be obtained at any good barber shop.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpidide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. One dollar size bottles guaranteed.

She Had Consumption; Was Dying; All Well

Beckman's Alternative is being used with success in the treatment of Tuberculosis. Persons who have taken it improved, gained weight, exhausting night sweats stopped, fever diminished, and many recovered. If you are interested to know more about it, we will put you in touch with some who are now well. You can investigate and judge for yourself. Write to Beckman's Alternative, Griffith, Ind. "Gentlemen: Thinking that perhaps a short history of the remarkable cure of my mother-in-law (Mrs. Anna Gover) might benefit some other sufferers, I hereby give the following testimonial: About September 10, 1909, she was taken sick with Tuberculosis. Pneumonia, and continually grew worse, requiring a trained nurse. Night sweats were so bad that it was necessary to change her clothing once or twice a night. Her cough increased and got so bad that everybody expected that she would not live much longer. The trained nurse (Miss Anna Trilney) informed me that she had Tuberculosis and nothing could be done for her. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's Church at Shererville, Ind., prepared for her death, he recommended that I get some Beckman's Alternative, and see if it would not ease her some relief. I then requested the attending physician to give his diagnosis and he informed me that she had consumption and was beyond all medical aid. When I asked if he thought that it was useless to try the Alternative, he replied that "No physician could help her any, and I could suit myself (pouf). I immediately had Rev. Wm. Berg send for a bottle. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alternative, which she did. At the end of the first week's treatment, she got so bad that she refused to take any more of it, but the doctor advised her to keep on taking it, as it was the only thing that might help her. I am glad to say now that she kept on and soon began to improve. Now, she works as hard as ever, weighs twenty pounds heavier than she did before she took sick, and is in good health. She frankly says she owes her life and health to Beckman's Alternative. We keep it on hand at all times and recommend it highly." "Signed Affidavit," J. O. GRAMMER."

Beckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain opium, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Co., and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Beckman's Alternative, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

MRS. MOORE'S ILLNESS HALTS DIVORCE TRIAL

Story of Discord in Her Home Unstrings Nerves of Fair Plaintiff; Fenwick Shouts 'Falsehood'

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 28.—Two weeks spent in listening to the recital of the details of her discordant domestic life with J. J. Moore, the clubman and businessman of this city, proved too much for Mrs. Lillian L. Moore, and when the third week of the proceedings started yesterday before Judge Buck in the divorce action was not in court.

"Mrs. Moore is suffering from an attack of nervous prostration," explained her attorney, William H. Jordan, so after a brief, but breezy session, in which Frederick M. Fenwick appeared to refute Moore's charges of indiscretion and improper conduct against Fenwick and Moore, and Mrs. Moore's sobriety, adjournment was taken until Friday morning.

Fenwick was twice called to the witness stand in reference to charges made by Moore.

COURT RULES OUTSIDE.

There might have been a livelier session had the most sensational incident of Moore's testimony been discussed by Fenwick, that is, the alleged automobile ride from A. Mon Chateau to the Moore house, on which Moore claimed Fenwick took liberties with Mrs. Moore.

"I do not want to hear about that A. Mon Chateau ride," declared Fenwick sharply when Attorney Jordan started to question Fenwick about it. So that eliminated the roadhouse and the ride.

Fenwick was on the stand less than five minutes, but in that time he twice branded accusations made by Moore as "falsehoods," and once he repudiated a violent contradiction at the witness.

The clash occurred when Attorney Jordan asked Fenwick: "Did you at one time call at Moore's office and ask him if you and Mrs. Fenwick could pass a week-end at the Moore place in San Mateo?"

"That is not the truth, it is an absolute falsehood," declared Fenwick.

"It is not," shouted Moore, rising out of his chair and growing red in the face, as if he wanted to say more.

"If you have anything to say address your remarks to the court," said Judge Buck.

KEPT EYE ON MOORE.

During the rest of his testimony Fenwick kept an eye on Moore.

Moore's attorney, E. J. Jordan, at one time called at Moore's office and asked him if you and Mrs. Fenwick could pass a week-end at the Moore place in San Mateo?"

"That is not the truth, it is an absolute falsehood," declared Fenwick.

"It is not," shouted Moore, rising out of his chair and growing red in the face, as if he wanted to say more.

"If you have anything to say address your remarks to the court," said Judge Buck.

KEPT EYE ON MOORE.

During the rest of his testimony Fenwick kept an eye on Moore.

Moore's attorney, E. J. Jordan, at one time called at Moore's office and asked him if you and Mrs. Fenwick could pass a week-end at the Moore place in San Mateo?"

"That is not the truth, it is an absolute falsehood," declared Fenwick.

"Eight years," replied Friedlander. "Your families have been intimate?"

"Yes," replied Fenwick.

NO CROSS EXAMINATION.

"Did you ever see Mrs. Moore under the influence of liquor?"

"No, sir," replied Fenwick.

Friedlander left the stand. There was no cross examination.

Fenwick was not cross examined, either. He had come prepared for action, for he was attended by his attorney, William H. Jordan, but the services of his lawyer were not needed.

Fenwick gave his address as San Francisco, and said that he had known Moore 10 years and Mrs. Moore five years. Jordan asked him at once regarding the alleged visit to Moore's office, and drew the first "falsehood" that was passed.

Then he questioned Fenwick regarding the time he and Mrs. Moore sat on the balcony together," asked Jordan.

"Did you and Mrs. Moore sit on the balcony together?" asked Jordan.

"Where were the other members of the party?"

"Inside," replied Fenwick.

"Were the balcony lighted?"

"Yes, by electricity," replied Fenwick.

"Did you drink any liquor there?"

"No, sir," replied Fenwick.

"We might have drunk some cordials," replied Fenwick.

ALWAYS LADYLIKE.

"Did you ever see Mrs. Moore intoxicated?"

"No," responded Fenwick, positively.

"Were your relations with Mrs. Moore proper?"

"Yes, sir," more positively.

"Did you ever see anything ladylike in her conduct?"

"Never," most positively.

Going into the details of Fenwick's visit to Moore's room at the Fairmont, the witness said that he went in and talked to Moore, sitting on Moore's bed.

"There was no conduct such as was indicated by Moore's testimony?"

"No," replied Fenwick.

"Did you and Mrs. Moore dance at any time, under those circumstances?"

"No," replied Fenwick.

"Mr. Fenwick, did you ever see Mrs. Moore under the influence of liquor?"

"No, sir," replied Fenwick.

"Mrs. Moore's attorneys desire to put her on the stand to make specific denials of the accusations contained in her husband's cross examination."

Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Intercepted at sea while on her way to the Puget Sound navy yard by orders from Washington, the United States battleship Oregon returned here last evening. The famous bulldog of the navy came into the harbor early in the morning from Monterey and after remaining in the stream long enough to take on board 30 general prisoners, ordered transferred from the Mare Island prison to Bremerton, proceeded on her journey.

She was off Point Reyes when a wireless message from Mare Island caused Commander Ford to put back. The message, which had evidently been delayed, ordered that the Oregon remain at San Francisco until further advice from the navy department.

WAR SPIRIT STIRS RED BLOOD OF RICHTER

Tells of Exciting Automobile
Chase Along East Shore
Boulevard.

Karl W. Richter, who was arrested last Saturday by a deputy constable at Twelfth avenue and East shore street after an exciting automobile chase from near Centerville, and who was returned to that town charged with a felony for having driven a motor car in his machine, declared today that he had been in no way responsible for the accident, but that on the other hand he had been negligent in not looking ahead of him while riding a bicycle.

The accident occurred as Richter was returning from a business trip to Monterey in the bicycle steamer. His version of the affair is as follows:

"About 7 o'clock I came through Centerville and slowed my machine down to a mile an hour. I was in the street. Like lightning a bicycle rider came tearing down toward my machine from the rear. His face was turned toward Oakland. Instead of looking along the road which he traveled, I slowed down to a mile an hour, and the bicycle, kept on turning in the direction of my machine, which I had practically stopped.

"The man was riding three yards from the auto and I did not hit him. If he got hurt it was by his fall from the bicycle. All this happened quickly and I was angry at the man's carelessness."

"I did my best to avoid the smash but was powerless. If I had run over the man I would have stopped. When I saw that he was not hurt I started home, feeling that I had done right. After a few miles a motorcycle came tearing past me. Further on I noticed another motor car coming at terrific speed.

"This car came alongside of me and I saw it was occupied by two men. One of them was looking at me and swore vengeance."

"One of them pulled a revolver and deliberately shot at me. I resolved to use the last bit of gasoline and go to the Oakland police station for protection. Now my old war spirit showed itself."

THREE YEARS AT WAR.

"I had been three years in the Transvaal war. I was commandant of never less than a hundred men. I fought with only 50 men, a whole British regiment for two days, and when I heard the bullets whizzing past my head I felt that if I had my trusted steed under me and we were charging the enemy across the veldt in Africa."

"Now, a good general must be a strategist and I thought of how to get rid of this mob. I did not know that there was a house in a back lot. I resolved to be shot or strung up on the nearest tree if they got hold of me."

"I watched my chance and when they tried to pass me I crowded their car against a hill and they got stuck in the hole."

"I then turned into a side street, slowed down and inspected my machine. On the boulevard the enemy appeared again and in the crowded streets, I was not able to shake them. In the end I saw a car who was, I found out later, a constable, hit me over the head and neck with a pair of handcuffs and badly lacerated my arms. He did that when people were looking on, and I wonder what they would have done if they could have gotten me in their power 20 miles out in the country."

"The result was I found myself in prison and have to put up heavy bail for what? Because my car came near hitting his bicycle in front of my machine."

MISS TABER TO WED HERO OF HER NOVEL
AUTHOR ENGAGED TO CHEVALIER SEVERI

MISS LOUISE E. TABER, author, who will wed the original of the hero in her novel.

Described in Book as Graceful Italian, 'His Features Strong, Clear Cut, Noble'

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Coincident with the publication of "The Flame," a novel by Miss Louise Taber, daughter of a prominent local photographer, comes the announcement of the engagement of the fair novelist to Chevalier Gino Severi, who, her friends say, is the original of the hero of the book.

Chevalier Severi came to this city five years ago as first violin with the original Lombardi opera company, after he had been decorated, as a mere boy, by the King of Italy for his music.

The hero of "The Flame" is Mario Cavaradosi, who is, in the words of Prince Jean Marie Gerard Philippe de Bourbon, duelist, gambler, romancer and fortune hunter, and the villain of the story, follows:

"The girl is in love with a dashing, handsome, Italian, who breathes romance and mystery. He is wealthy and is the type of man who would attract any woman, especially one so young and inexperienced as Miss Rolfe. There is sentiment even in his name—Mario Cavaradosi. He sings and he plays and is exceedingly attractive and popular."

OFTEN TOGETHER. Severi is leader of the orchestra now at the Opera House, and when he isn't leading he and Miss Taber are seen together frequently at the opera, when there is any and at the theaters.

There were whispers about an engagement even before the book was published last month, but when the wiseheads read "The Flame" and put Chevalier Severi in the hero's place, allowing for the little fictions and liberties all authors take, there was a great chorus of:

"Didn't I tell you so? I suspected it all along."

Now Miss Taber says it is true, if the statement that, "Oh, it will be quite a long time yet before the en-

"I am going to have Dentist Smith enamel my horrid gold teeth. Too much ridicule."

To appear vulgar display gold teeth, much desired by low wage-earners and wooden shoe immigrants. People of culture abhor them. Don't fail to see this beautiful art.

COAL MINES WILL CLOSE AS PROTEST

Kansas Owners to Shut Down When Employers' Liability Law Is Effective.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—According to a number of leading coal mine operators in this district, 30 percent of the mines of Kansas will be shut down January 1 because of the state workmen's compensation law, which goes into effect on that date.

The operators declare they cannot afford to take the risk of liability to injured employees.

EGG ACTORS IN NEW YORK.
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Riotous disorder broke out last night at a performance when Irish players, recently arrived from Dublin, attempted to produce "Play Boys of the West" at Maxine Elliott's theater. Much refuse was thrown at the actors and police reserves were called out. Ten prisoners were taken.

MOORE CASE MAY BE APPEALED

Sentence On Medium Is Not Imposed, Following Motion by Attorney.

H. Robert Sinclair Moore, the trance medium and invoker of the spirits, was not sentenced last evening by Judge Wells in the criminal department of the Superior Court on his conviction of robbing Walter Bentzen, of $700 by trick and device. The matter had been set down for 4:30 o'clock, but when that hour arrived Attorney George J. McDonough made a motion on behalf of his client for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, and by mutual consent the case was continued to next Monday morning for argument on the motion. By that time Moore and his spiritualist friends who are financing his defense will have decided whether or not his case shall be appealed if the motion is denied and judgment pronounced.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Bilioussness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

POLICE FEAR FURTHER KILLINGS IN VENDETTA

THREE LIVES COST OF 2-YEAR-OLD BLOOD FEUD

GEORGE CONDOS.

The Cousin of Slayer Held for Hurling Condos From Fast Moving Train.

PETER BALLONOS IN JAIL FOR LATEST MURDER

Quarrel Originated in Veley, Greece, Twenty-four Months Ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Originating two years ago in Veley, Colomias, Greece, when Paulus Prantikos, or Prandoegos, slew John Condos as the outcome of a peasant's quarrel, a vendetta stretched its tireless vengeance to this city, where it caused the death of two men and the slight wounding of another Sunday and registered its fourth fatality when George Condos was hurled to death from a rapidly moving train last night. Two of the men who were killed here were patrolmen—Charles F. Castor and Thomas Finnelly. The man who died last night was a cousin of the man killed in Veley, and it is asserted Peter Ballonos, the man accused of the crime, is a cousin of Prantikos.

Who will be the next victim is the question that is worrying the police department of this city and the peace officers of San Mateo county, where George Condos met death. With the exception of Prantikos all the Greeks known to be directly connected with the vendetta are employed in meat packing establishments in South City, just across the line in San Mateo county.

COUSINS ARE EMPLOYED.

There are employed two cousins of George Condos, and like him, nephews of the Condos killed in Veley. Also employed there are Greeks friendly with the man accused of hurling George Condos from the train. Prantikos, according to his own story, has spent the two years since the slaying of John Condos in evading the law and the more to be feared vengeance of his relatives in Veley. His wanderings were planned to bring him to this city at such a time as, in his belief, his crime had been forgotten. He arrived here Saturday, but throughout the two years friends and relatives of his victim in Veley maintained a surveillance of his movements and he had been here only a few hours before the three Condos youths knew of his presence.

WOULD ABIDE BY LAW.

They preferred, however, to let the law of their adopted country take its course and informed the police of Prantikos' presence. Then they set out to assist the law in running him down. They found Prantikos at the entrance to the Perry building and there Prantikos shot and slightly wounded George Condos. Resisting arrest Prantikos shot and fatally wounded Patrolman Castor and Finnelly. He was captured and his trial for murder will be speedily set, and as speedily ended. George Condos' wound was not severe enough to prevent him from going to work yesterday and last evening with several of his fellow workers men he was standing on the platform of a swiftly moving train going home from work. If he knew that among those on the car platform was a relative of Prantikos he paid little heed, and according to witnesses his life paid the forfeit.

Peter Ballonos is in jail in Redwood City, where he will be formally charged with murder, and others are held as witnesses.

SEEK A HOME FOR WEALTHY BABY

Parents of Vinson McLean Would Raise $100,000,000 Child in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—A "hundred million-dollar baby" seeking a California home has come into prominence as the rival of William Andrews Clark III, known in the West as the "million-dollar baby." The new infant nabob is Vinson Walsh McLean, the 2-year-old son of Edward McLean, son of John R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post and Cincinnati Enquirer. He comes by his great wealth through his maternal grandfather, the late millionaire Thomas Walsh of Colorado, whose daughter was married to Edward McLean.

The "hundred million-dollar baby" may live at Pasadena or thereabouts within walking distance of the home of William Andrews Clark III.

GRANDSON OF SENATOR.

William Andrews Clark III is a grandson, in fact, the only grandson, of former United States Senator W. A. Clark of Montana. At his birth some dozen years ago the third generation of the Clark family received $1,000,000 from his proud grandfather.

This sum, through shrewd investment, has been swollen to about $3,000,000. W. A. Clark lives now in Los Angeles, where his father, W. A. Clark Jr., has established himself in a beautiful home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McLean arrived in San Francisco yesterday, fresh from a tiresome hunt for a home in Southern California. During their stay here they are occupying apartments at the St. Francis, where Mr. McLean yesterday explained his mission to California.

In their search for a California home the McLeans left the little Vinson in charge of relatives and servants in Washington.

COMING FOR CLIMATE.

A dozen reasons are given by the McLeans for desiring to bring Vinson Walsh McLean to California.

The mother's principal reason is that climate conditions in Washington and even in Denver, which was her former home, militate against the healthful raising of a child.

McLean coincides with his wife in her views and refers to other anxieties attending the career of V. W. McLean, which are inferred to mean the advance the McLeans have suffered from threatening letters concerning their baby that they have received from time to time. As a result the baby is carefully guarded by detectives, which is not a pleasant condition of affairs.

Although thousands of miles separate the McLeans from their baby, the telegraph serves to keep them advised twice a day of his welfare.

In lieu of their baby the McLeans have as traveling companions two pet dogs, "Bunt," an aristocratic pointer, and "Sorta," a well-bred French poodle.

URGES FEDERAL TRUST REGULATION

Seth Low Tells Senators That U. S. License Is Best Means of Supervision.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Theodore N. Vall, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which controls the Western Union, the Anglo-American cable lines and numerous smaller concerns, arrived here yesterday and is stopping at the St. Francis hotel.

Numerous guesses have been made as to the reason of Vall's visit at this time, among them being the special session of the legislature, rumored consolidation of independent telephone companies with the Pacific system, Western Union matters and the new company of which he is also the head and which was organized to sell gas in bottles in the bay cities.

As to politics having anything to do with his visit, Vall is non-committal, but he admitted that as the head of a great corporation he might be interested in the bill before the legislature, providing for government of utility corporations by a commission. He positively denied that he had come West to engineer the absorption of the independent telephone system, saying that a deal would eventually be made when the people expressed themselves in favor of it.

President Vall gave as his opinion that Taft would be nominated, but asserted that he had not taken any particular interest in the matter and denied the report that his recent visit to Vermont had anything to do with a scheme with J. Pierpont Morgan to secure a candidate.

This noon Vall was the guest of Henry T. Scott at a luncheon in the St. Francis, to which a number of leading business men had been invited.

Successful system depends on time saving. Western Union "Day Letters" and "Night Letters" overcome the mail's delay. They are in the highest sense "Time Savers."

SHOT AND FATALLY WOUNDED BY INDIAN

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 28.—Thomas Connolly was shot and fatally injured by George Francisco, an Indian. After the shooting the Indian lighted a candle to make an examination of the wound, dragged his victim sixty feet from the roadside and drove away toward Sebastopol with his squaw. Connolly remained exposed all night in the bitter cold. His left side being paralyzed by the shot, he was unable to move. He is likely to develop pneumonia from his exposure, and the shock and loss of blood will be a combination that will probably prove fatal.

Sheriff Smith took up the pursuit of the Indian, who had had an all-night start of the officers, and captured him at Sebastopol.

For coughing, croup and tickling in the throat hoarseness and all coughs and colds, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Contains no opiates. Wishart's drug store, 10th and Washington streets.

VENTURA IS MENACED BY FIRE

Town Saved From Forest Flames After All-Night Battle of Residents

Area 20 Miles Long and 15 Wide Swept Bare: Beautiful Park Now Threatened

VENTURA, Nov. 28.—The forest fires that started far down the coast in the mountains girdling Santa Monica, swept up to the outskirts of this city last night and today, burning barns and other small buildings in the yards of the frightened residents. The flames came within ten feet of the skeleton of the new county courthouse, but were beaten back by the fire fighters, who labored all night against the odds of an unfavorable wind. At 10 o'clock all danger to city property apparently had passed. When the flames reached Foster Park in the night the whole town turned out as volunteer fire fighters. Armed with shovels, picks, spades and axes, the people fought until long past dawn, but were gradually forced back until well inside the city limits. A stiff night wind drove the flames steadily down upon the town, the dry brush and undergrowth of the bean fields supplying excellent fuel. Many ranches were swept by the fires and much damage was done. Several ranch houses are reported to have been burned, but no reports have been received relative to the amount of losses. Ten thousand dollars is the estimated damage within the city limits.

Outside this city and stretching to Santa Paula and beyond an area twenty miles long and from ten to fifteen miles wide was burned bare of brush and feed. The valuable Santa Paula fields escaped, the fire having burned far to the westward of that district.

OXNARD CITIZENS' AID.

OXNARD, Nov. 28.—Realizing the danger to Ventura last night when the forest fires suddenly shifted across the coast, the citizens of this city, fifty residents of Oxnard sprang into their automobiles and dashed ten miles through the night to aid in fighting the flames.

Three and 300 Venturers succeeded, after fighting all night, in placing the city beyond danger, but the flames raged today near Castitas Pass, on the way from Ventura to Santa Barbara and beautiful Foster Park was threatened.

RUSH TO SAVE PARK.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 28.—Officials of the Santa Barbara forestry bureau received word today that forest fires threatened to destroy Foster Park. Immediately Forest Ranger Charles H. Smith and his assistants rushed to the scene to fight the flames.

It was reported here that the park probably would be saved, as the wind at that section was blowing from the west. It was also reported that many miles of valuable timber probably would be destroyed. As it was, numerous ranches were expected to be ruined.

PORT WITH CARGO

Big Steamer Unloading 15,000 Feet of Lumber On the Waterfront.

Nothing out of the ordinary routine steaming marred the trip of the Pacific Coast Steamer company's passenger and freight ship, City of Topeka, which steamed in early this morning and tied up at Long Wharf, where she is discharging 15,000 feet of lumber. The big coast trader comes from Eureka and reports an exceptionally smooth and short run, the trip being made in 48 hours. The weather in the port of Eureka was rather nasty when the steamer left the port because of a heavy fog hanging over the sea.

After passing the bar, however, the steamer passed away, the rest of the trip being made in clear weather. The monotony of the run was somewhat relieved by a number of young people who, during the clear quiet evenings, would "speak" near the silvery moon. It is not known whether the trip will result in any engagements, but according to the captain, it certainly was one of the "mushy" kind.

The vessel carried 75 passengers forward and 40 toward the stern. The liner steamed out of the port of Eureka she was the last of a fleet of 10 and according to Captain Gielow, it was but a short time before the steamer had left the others trailing along in the distance.

TEN AT ONCE.

This is the first time in many years that 10 vessels have arrived at the same time and is also unique in the fact that none of the vessels leaving had been harbored but had all been loaded at the same time. Captain Gielow, master of the big vessel, is an old resident of this city.

Outside this city and stretching to Santa Paula and beyond an area twenty miles long and from ten to fifteen miles wide was burned bare of brush and feed. The valuable Santa Paula fields escaped, the fire having burned far to the westward of that district.

3 RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED BY CHAMBER

Organization Favors Population Basis for Congressional Reappointment.

Three resolutions were passed at the directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce this morning. The first relates to the reappointment of the State, Senatorial and Assembly districts, and is as follows:

Whereas, The authority for apportioning the State into Senatorial and Assembly districts is founded upon the provisions of the Constitution of the State of California, and

Whereas, Article IV, Section 6, of said Constitution, the method is laid down for the direction of the Legislature in making such apportionment into four Senatorial and eighty Assembly districts, which is in proportion to population, "as nearly as may be," and

Whereas, It becomes the duty of the Legislature under the provisions of the Constitution to make such apportionment at the first session after the census, and

Whereas, Representation has been made by the Chamber of Commerce of Los Angeles that body has reason to believe that the present apportionment is upon some different basis than that of population are being considered, and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has declared the sentiment of its members to favor the achievement of population basis in the apportionment, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Oakland Chamber of Commerce believes that the equal apportionment on the population basis is fair and just and should be adhered to by the Legislature.

The second resolution says:

Whereas, There is pending before Congress the bill for the ratification of the treaties with Great Britain and France, the purpose of which is to provide for the settlement of the differences between the two nations without the waste of war, and

Whereas, These treaties have been approved by President Taft, Secretary Knox, Senators Root, Cullum and others of equal prominence, now, therefore, be it resolved, That the Chamber of Commerce requests the senators and representatives of California to support the proposition of international arbitration.

3.—The reduction of the past few years may be reduced through the installation of electric lights for the numerous lights and buoys along the coast.

4.—Aids to the development and extension of internal transportation in such manner as may be consistent with sound government policy in preventing private monopoly and the exploitation of the people.

5.—The establishment of salmon hatcheries at suitable places along the Alaskan coast for the perpetuation of the food supply and the benefit of the greatest assets of Alaska, but which if not properly conserved is likely to be lost.

6.—The industry will be practically wiped out.

7.—More adequate means for the administration of justice and the protection of the rights of persons and of property, that immigration and investment may be encouraged and the permanent development and prosperity of the country brought about.

8.—That Congress carefully consider the extension of the right of citizenship to properly qualified natives of Alaska.

9.—And finally that whatever laws are enacted shall be pursuant to a sound policy of promoting development with a consistent and consistent people from the exaction of private exploiters, and with due consideration to safeguarding from monopoly the natural resources of the country so as to insure the permanent prosperity of this important portion of the national domain.

Three and 300 Venturers succeeded, after fighting all night, in placing the city beyond danger, but the flames raged today near Castitas Pass, on the way from Ventura to Santa Barbara and beautiful Foster Park was threatened.

RUSH TO SAVE PARK.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 28.—Officials of the Santa Barbara forestry bureau received word today that forest fires threatened to destroy Foster Park. Immediately Forest Ranger Charles H. Smith and his assistants rushed to the scene to fight the flames.

MILITARY HONORS FOR DEAD POLICE

450 Members of the Force to March at Double Funeral of Dead Officers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—For the first time in the history of the San Francisco police department full military honors are to be given to two of the stalwart members of company C who were shot down in the performance of their duty on Sunday. Police Charles Castor and Policeman Thomas Fennelly, who died from bullet wounds as the result of being shot by Paul Trandogeros, self-confessed murderer, will have a double funeral.

It is the usual custom to detail a squad from the company of a dead brother officer, but in this instance a detail of 60 men will be made from the nine companies in the department. The escort will be headed by Captain Marcus Anderson with Captain Kelly as adjutant and will march from the undertaker's parlors, where the remains of the policemen lie, through the Mission district to St. James Church, where a solemn requiem high mass will be said. Thence the escort will proceed to St. Luke's hospital, where the police will be disinterred, and the funeral cortege will proceed by electric car, to Holy Cross Cemetery.

Company C, to which both of the murdered men belonged will act as escorts of honor, and will march beside the hearse.

BREAKING UP BIG SMUGGLING GANG

Immigration Officials Find the Names of Criminals in Confiscated Papers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—That the gang of smugglers who have operated on this coast for years, bringing in hundreds of Chinese illegally, is about to be broken up and that among its members will be found many men well known in California, is the belief of United States immigration officials in this city. According to these officials they plan a vigorous prosecution of Captain James Wright, master, and Reynold Scott, the engineer of the power schooner Comrade of San Diego, which was captured near Monterey yesterday while the crew was endeavoring to land twenty-five coolies at a lonely spot on the coast.

Antone Felix, a Mexican arrested here last night, was taken before U. S. Commissioner Francis Krull today on a warrant sworn out by Immigration Inspector W. H. Chadney. It is believed to be one of the leaders of the smuggling ring, which is supposed to have brought most of the Chinese from Mexican ports.

"Documents found on Felix," said Chadney today, "revealed evidence as to the identity of the smugglers, for whom we have long been searching."

18-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS BADLY BURNED

Lucien Mellot Receives Injuries From Which She May Not Recover.

While lighting a gas stove preparatory to getting her father's lunch today, 18-year-old Lucien Mellot of 4145 Telegraph avenue, received burns from which she may not recover.

The injured girl was taken to the Receiving Hospital and attended by Dr. W. H. Irwin and Stewart Black. It was found that the burns were of the second and third degree. Both of her hands and face, her chest, and her back were badly seared by the flames, which had completely enveloped her person when the stove flared up after she had lit it.

The mother of the girl was working in a nearby laundry. Neighbors heard her screams and rushed to her assistance, but before they arrived the damage had been done. The girl's apron, which she wore caught fire and in a moment all of her clothing was in flames. Her father had not returned home for lunch, and it was while preparing his meal that the accident happened.

WALKING ARSENAL FIGHTS POLICEMAN

Michael Chrastance Arrested After Battle; May Be Robber.

Believed to be either a dangerous highwayman or a member of some "black hand" society, Michael Chrastance, arrested today, had a strenuous fight at an early hour this morning by Patrolman J. Petersen at East Fourteenth street and Seventy-third avenue. When taken into custody, Chrastance had two heavy revolvers strapped to his body, and carried 100 rounds of ammunition in his cartridge belt. It was only by a desperate battle that Patrolman Petersen fended off the attempt of the alleged highwayman to use his weapons.

Bernard Baker's Steamship Fiasco.

Let us not wholly despair because Mr. Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore failed to finance his big steamship project. There are others. Mr. Baker's steamship scheme is not the only device for keeping the Panama canal open to competition. Every man who undertakes to finance a big project on the altruistic theory is not entirely unselfish. Benevolent intention is often associated with a desire for gain. Probably Mr. Baker wanted to make money out of his steamship scheme as much as he desired to protect the public from the evils of transportation monopoly. However, we have no doubt that there will be men to build and sail ships through the canal, and we are quite confident that the government will take effective measures to prevent that waterway from being monopolized or operated in the interest of the transcontinental railroads.

Mr. Baker put too much philanthropy in his prospectus. He was too anxious to serve the public, too intent upon protecting the people from exactions. A steamship company is a business enterprise. Men do not put money in such concerns solely to confer a benefit on the public—their chief aim is to make money for themselves. They want interest on their investment. Whatever benefit the public derives must be incidental. Even then the interests of the public must run with those of the stock owners. Mr. Baker laid too much stress on the benevolent side of his enterprise. He would have done better to have explained how money could be made by buying stock in his company. He tried to finance his project on a wrong principle, or rather without taking into account the workings of human nature.

It is as certain as anything can be that the Panama canal cannot be monopolized by anybody. It will be open to the use of everybody on equal terms. Mr. Baker's company, had he succeeded in financing it, would have had to compete with other steamship enterprises. It would have had no advantage over other concerns, it would not have conferred any public benefit that other steamship companies cannot confer. It was first of all a business proposition. If it was not a business proposition it was not attractive to investors. Perhaps he talked so much about keeping down the rates of transportation that capitalists concluded he did not desire to make the business of his company profitable to those owning stock in it.

Mr. Baker says the railroad interests deterred by persuasion, intimidation or other influence, moneyed men from investing in his company. He may be right, but it is difficult to see what the railroads have gained by the proceeding. Mr. Baker's failure to finance his undertaking has not stopped work on the canal nor affected the conditions under which it will be operated after completion. What he proposed to do anybody else can do. There is need for one or more such steamship lines as Mr. Baker proposed to establish. We are confident the need will be supplied. Mr. Baker's failure is not fatal to the purpose for which the canal is being excavated. It will not stifle competition nor enable the railroads to do anything they cannot otherwise do.

The canal will serve its purpose, never fear, and there will be plenty of American steamships to ply through it when it is finished. Nevertheless we would like to see a strong company organized now to engage in the trade between Atlantic and Pacific ports—a company largely owned by Pacific Coast capital and partially controlled by Pacific Coast men. Mr. Baker wanted Pacific Coast capital to aid him in establishing an eastern company.

Now that Henry C. Beattie has been electrocuted and buried let us hope that the press will drop all mention of him and Beulah Binford. A vulgar amour prompted a brutal murder, and the promise given the case was out of all proportion to its importance and news value. Prurient interest was aroused in the minds of millions by a publicity which dragged in all the salacious details of a nasty intrigue. But it is all over now and there is no further excuse for keeping the Beattie case in the public eye. Let us turn to the contemplation of things more profitable and pleasant.

War Was Narrowly Averted.

Lord Grey's cautious statements regarding the Moroccan difficulty must be read between the lines to be understood. It indicates not only that the relations between Great Britain and Germany are still strained, but that the tension at one time was so great as to threaten war. In denying that the government had failed to take proper measures for defense in the event of hostilities the British foreign minister revealed the fact that full preparations had been made for active operations on sea and land. This is more than the public suspected.

It has been stated without authoritative denial that definite plans had been made to mobilize the English fleet in the Channel and in the North Sea and to throw 150,000 land troops—practically the whole of Britain's effective regular force, into France to aid in repelling a German invasion. The English coasts were to be protected by driving the inferior sea armament of Germany into the German ports, which were to be blockaded. It was assumed that England's overwhelming superiority on sea would compel the German fleets to seek cover and remain in the estuaries of the Weser, the Elbe and the Oder.

This plan, if successfully carried out, would leave communication between France and England and her colonies undisturbed, and would have compelled Germany to conduct an exclusively land campaign against France. Germany's ports would have been closed and her marine commerce swept from the seas. On land, France would have had the support of the full English military strength.

This is the plan outlined in a public speech by a member of the British parliament. It has not been denied by the British war office, and it is given color by the statement of Lord Grey. He plainly intimates that Great Britain was prepared for war and would have supported France to the last extremity. Evidently there would have been war had not a way been provided to let Germany down easy.

A queer angle to the political situation has been revealed by Theodore Roosevelt's attack on President Taft's enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law. Colonel Roosevelt not only stands up for the Steel Trust, but he sharply criticizes both the letter and purpose of the Sherman law. Wall street appears to have found a new Moses and to have taken fresh heart. However, it is an old saying that politics makes strange bed-fellows.

The Woodland Democrat errs in saying that THE TRIBUNE "advises poultry-raisers to devote more attention to chickens, ducks and geese and less to turkeys." We gave no such advice. We noted the fact that the Agricultural Department had announced a decrease in the number of turkeys in the country, and explained that poultry-breeders probably found it more profitable to raise chickens and other small fowl instead of the national bird. Otherwise it is difficult to account for the extraordinary decrease in turkeys. We agree with our Woodland contemporary that California is ideally adapted to turkey-breeding. There were immense flocks of turkeys in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys when grain-growing was the chief industry in those sections, but turkey-breeding has steadily declined since the big wheat ranches gave way to fruit and dairy farms. The turkey disappears before the orchard and the alfalfa field.

OVERHEARD IN THE FARMYARD.

—LOS ANGELES TIMES.

William J. Bryan says the Democrats cannot get the support of Wall street on any terms, and adds that they must get the support of the Republican progressives to win. His statement is an acknowledgment that the Democrats are not strong enough to elect a President themselves and must depend upon Republican assistance to win the election. This is equivalent to saying that the Republicans only have to stick together to retain control of the government. The admission is significant. It explains the eagerness of the Democrats to foment dissension in the Republican ranks.

YOUNG MEN AT SIXTY

The London papers' discussion of "men too young at 60" is a matter that should provoke comment in all civilized countries. It is not a sign of civilization and of scientific development that the periods of youth, maturity, middle age and old age should be set forward a decade or score of years? We now know what our forefathers failed to take account of, that the period of bodily growth does not cease with its attainment of stature. The vital organs continue to expand. The brain and lungs develop until 30, the liver until 35 and the heart into the 40s. That used to be considered middle age, although maturity is but just attained. At 45 the human machine, new and completed, should be ready for its life career.

The London papers are boasting of their octogenarian Lord Mayor, the athlete of 75, who won his swimming race in the lifetime; the new play by Thomas Hardy, aged 73, and the Unionist party's 35-year old leader, the Earl of Halsbury. Curiously, the efficiency of the young-old men of today, as compared with the old men of a generation ago, is ascribed to their use of modern inventions.

"Now the old men are climbing back into the seat of power. Young men no longer monopolize the machines; the old men have them, too, and put more force behind them."

It is possible that the typewriter, the telephone, the motor car and the limited express, which contribute to the rush and hurry of the present-day affairs, when utilized by the older men conduce to their longevity and vigor? Possibly. Are they not labor-saving machines?

We hear much of the forcing of immature minds, of hastening development in the schools, of the strain and excitement of urban living, of increase in diseases of the vital structures, unfit foods, improper recreation and nervous breakdowns. There is increased accuracy in diagnosis of all these ills, complete statistics of them, more continued and painstaking treatment. But in Prussia, where civilization has advanced furthest, life has been most prolonged. The longer man lives the better he learns how to live. The fountain of perpetual youth has not yet been found, but the diseases which interrupt maturity and forbid the attainment of ripe powers and vigor have been checked and a natural dissolution of life is made more possible.—New York Times.

BARBARITY IN KANSAS

For undiluted coarseness that party of human brutes who tarred and feathered the young woman school teacher at Lincoln Center, Kansas, is entitled to the club premium. There have been outrages committed upon people before now more cruel than that which those miscreants perpetrated, but in all the history of narrow-minded, contemptible brutalities the Lincoln Center episode stands as superlative.

It was only a few weeks prior to the occurrence of this dastardly business that a justice of the peace in another Kansas town compelled a woman prisoner, convicted of a misdemeanor, to work on the street in the chain gang. This peace official was entranced not to disgrace the community by such an act, but entreaty was of no avail. The empty pated "Shallow" said it was the law for prisoners to work on the street in the chain gang and he was bound to enforce the law. Both of these happenings would shame savagery, and both of them bore a Kansas date-line in the news reports.

Among the well known Oaklanders who have promised to contribute to THE TRIBUNE'S Christmas box are the following: Joseph Harris, Sam Bell McKee, Attorney Wells Whitmore, County Clerk James E. Crane, Robert A. Hughes, Charles H. Ayers, William S. Harlow, R. C. J. Adney, Lin S. Church, Benjamin Wright, Judge Charles E. Snook and County Recorder George H. Allen.

Ten juvenes were secured yesterday to try J. G. Howell, accused of the murder of Rone S. Colvin last spring: John Stockey, John Sweeney, B. B. Nixon, J. Galloway, J. G. Young, John Curran, George C. Burchell, E. C. Kennedy, J. F. Whipple and F. C. Winton.

Elzear R. Simard and Helen C. Bilz were married by the Rev. Dr. Baessler at Pleasanton on November 23. The bride is the eldest daughter of J. A. Bilz, the widely known carriage manufacturer of that place and the groom is a nephew of Ed Remillard of the Remillard Brick company.

The fine improvements that are being made about Knox Park cause much comment by people who like to see public improvements.

The "Black Pearl" of Minneapolis and "Chocolate Bunny" of Boston had a finish fight at the California Athletic Club last night. In the 25th round the "Pearl" received an unmerciful drubbing.

If there is to be any change in ownership of Oakland waterfront property, it is to be hoped that the new owners will be more given to improvements than the old ones. The fact that so many of the ships now in the harbor are merely laid up there for rest is largely due to the fact that the land on the front has not been improved.

A deal has been consummated whereby H. W. Carpenter transfers to E. P. Vandercok nine acres in the Watson tract, Brooklyn township, for the sum of $18,000. Miss Ida Henry of Linden street met with a painful accident last evening while she was driving along the Linden street. The horse slipped and fell and Miss Henry was thrown from the rig receiving painful injuries to her back.

ECLIPSING EDISON

The inventor appeared at his home one day with a number of homing pigeons. "Why this bunch?" queried his wife. "My dear," he replied, "I feel sure that they will make our fortunes. By closely observing their habits and methods I shall make an invention which will bring us millions and provide mankind with something of which it stands in dire need. Yes, my dear, I have given up for the moment my effort to find a cure for senility and a cheap substitute for ivory billiard balls."

"What do you propose to invent?" inquired his wife.

"Something that will cause my name to be blessed in every home in this land," he replied, "a homing umbrella! Think of it—no more permanent borrowing by unscrupulous friends—no more!"

But she had resumed her housework.—Philadelphia Ledger.

DELECTABLE SEASON—EAST

The blizzard has run its wrathful course. Following the storm comes the calm. On a morning when the air is cool and crisp, and the smoke from the early fires rises in a thin line toward the illimitable heights of an unclouded sky, what reminder comes of youthful days? If the question be asked of the country-born, there can be but one reply—hog-killing time!

Out at daybreak, when the frost is still white on the ground, go the father and the hired man, with the youngster on eager and murderous trail. The big stones from the roadside have been heated in a fire of old fence rails until they are white hot. The hoghead, half-filled with water, leans against the rude board scaffold. Their royal pigships have taken the last feast on shelled corn. Father loads the ancient smooth bore, and places the percussion cap upon the nipple with careful accuracy, and the boy draws a long breath. Of course, the hog could be killed in any one of a multitude of other ways, but the verities require that he be shot. It embodies the act, and gives infinite zest to the whole performance.

The shot is fired. That which was pig is now pork. The corpus delicti is hailed by willing hands upon the trestle work, and insinuated headfirst into the seething caldron. Just long enough is he allowed to stay there, else the hair will become "set," and that means that he must be shaved instead of having the bristles rubbed off with a corn knife. But what a beauty he is, after the process is completed! Sleek sides, that resound cheerily when slapped with the open palm, and sausage and spare ribs from the innards, plenty for the family, and savory "messes" for the neighbors to drown all past feuds and misunderstandings! There they all lie, eight in a row, with a stick separate the place where the diaphragm used to be, and a cornucopia to hold the mouth open. And the runt—there is always a runt, forced from infancy to bring up the rear, and fated to obtain his nourishment from the final lactated appendage—the runt, he's nearly as big as the others!

How to smoke 'em, whether with hickory chips, or whatnot—that, as Mr. Kipling avers with regard to similar interesting episodes, is another story. But the killing is the great event. Of it was a quarter of a century ago, on a frosty morning of mid-November.—Washington Post.

MAGIC MUSIC OF 'THAIS' ROUSES AUDIENCE

Allegory in Melody Flawlessly Sung by Lambardi Company.

DEANETTE ALVINA'S WORK IS SPLENDID

The Lyric Passages of Opera Touched With Wand of Master.

(By HARRY L. SULLY.)

"Thais" is an allegory in music, a beautiful woman in the flesh, and a dream of evanescent loveliness in recollection. In allegory, Thais is the soul of a beautiful woman, the soul like a butterfly with prism-tinted wings, outstretched, lured by the fragrance of that flower of corruption, known to the ancient world as the refinement of pure paganism and to the modern as pure estheticism, liberated by love from the lure, only to die in ecstatic rapture soaring into the cold and splendid radiance of the Christian ideal of asceticism.

As set to magic music in the lyric drama by Jules Massenet, "Thais" was given almost flawless interpretation at the farewell performance of the Lambardi opera company at the Macdonough theater. The opera was a spiritual adventure shipped to the audience in an esthetic and appreciative aggregation willing to do its part to make the adventure a success. Eager attention was given, the singing and the playing of the passion—many as a result of the generous applause.

Possibly never in music has the exquisite charm of the hedonistic ideal of love for the sake of love, of beauty worshiped merely and exclusively for the sake of beauty, been given more perfect expression. Abandoning the rigid thematic structure of the Wagnerian guiding motif, Massenet has developed a free weaving of melodic phrases which characterize not individual characters, as in the Wagnerian music drama, but moods and spiritual progressions.

Perfect portrayal of the mood of devotion to the glorification of the pleasures of sense is made possible in this music. The music of seduction, languid, yet on fire, is sung by Thais in the first act and runs through the orchestra like a flame. Athanase, the young monk from the desert, who stands as the symbol of the ascetic ideal, finds his blood answering to the seductive call of the siren, and the agony of the messenger of God is crashed forth in the chords of the instrumentation in dramatic warfare with the siren song of Thais.

TOLD IN PROSE.

The story of Thais was told in novel form by Anatole France. Gustave Flaubert, in his "Temptation of Saint Anthony," gave some hint of the anguish of the ascetic caught in the lure of the senses. But it remained for Anatole France to evoke the perfect flower of hedonism, to show that that flower was deadly, and to go on step further to show that at its extreme it could be no more deadly than that opposite pole in human conduct, the clear, cold, arctic night of unalloyed asceticism.

These two impossible ideas, the one the tropical and poisonous garden of sensation for the sake of the senses, the other the impossible splendors of eternal white radiance, are symbolically set forth in the characters of Thais, the Alexandrian courtesan, and Athanase, the Cenobite of the desert. It is significant that the two human creatures, questing after impossible ideals, change places in the drama, the slither to become the saintly nun, the saintly Cenobite to become a sinner. The audio of mood change, the transfer of transcendental, has been handled by Massenet with the hand of a master, and even with an orchestra too small to be adequate, Chevalier Pulgencio Guerrero achieves marvels of beauty with this score.

As Thais, Deanette Alvina, presented an interpretation of pervasive charm. Her voice is a clear and beautiful soprano, sure and under perfect control in the higher register, whether for piano or forte effects. Her acting, like a lambent flame, clothed the Thais role with convincing loveliness. Alvina's the genu-

FAIR ADVERTISING WILL BE EXTENSIVE

Panama-Pacific Co. Is Busy Perfecting Plans for Publicity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition company is busy perfecting plans for a world-wide advertising campaign which will be started in the not far distant future by a systematic dispatching of news to the entire universe. Already the 1915 fair has received "much more advertising" than is usually given to such projects three years before opening date and the fact that the Panama Canal is so vitally concerned in the celebration will mean that the world cannot very readily lose sight of the great show which is to be presented at the Pacific Coast metropolis.

The Governor's special train will carry Governor Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada, who wired Premier Moore that he would join the party of chief executives of the western states, who are en route east to advertise the exposition.

American Museum Expedition to Seek Gamest, Fiercest and Rarest Species.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The collection of whales at the American Museum of Natural History, already the largest in the world, is to be further reinforced by what are said to be the most important expedition leaving New York today. The expedition in charge of Professor Ray C. Andrews of the museum staff is undertaken primarily in search of a gray California whale, the rarest of its species. There is no specimen of this variety in any institution in the western hemisphere.

Professor Andrews will also seek a humpback whale on the coast of Korea and a great bull whale, now almost extinct. Leaving New York by rail, Professor Andrews will sail from San Francisco on December 13, going direct to Japan and then to Korea. The gray whale is the gamest and fiercest of its kind.

MILLIONAIRE JURORS MUST BUY OWN MEALS

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Millionaires had a new burden added to the demand of the county judges that they serve on juries. Hereafter they must purchase their own luncheons while serving the county.

President Peter Baertzen of the Cook county board, yesterday decided that the $1.10 earned by the millionaires as jurors was enough to enable them to purchase their own luncheons and he ordered the free meals, previously served, discontinued.

OWNER-HEDGES HAS NEW IDEA FOR SERIES

President Hedges, of the St. Louis Browns, who won the cellar championship of the American League, is out with a new idea. He plans to have the world's series lengthened to 11 games, two to be played in each of the larger American League cities and the deciding game pulled off at some point to be selected by the commission. One good thing about the idea is that Bob has the St. Louis fans' interests at heart, as he knows that they will never have a chance to see such a thing unless this method is adopted.

MERGER MAY BE ILLEGAL.
SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—The proposed gigantic merger of sixty tidewater sawmills in Oregon and Washington has met with a serious reverse in the refusal of Attorney-General Wickham to pass upon the articles of incorporation of the Pacific Coast Lumber company. There is a serious question whether or not the merger can be accomplished in the absence of assurance from federal authorities that it will be legal.

PINCHOT TAKES HEARTY LEAVE OF ROOSEVELT

Ardent Support of Former President Takes Up Standard of La Follette and Flings It to Breeze

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Gifford Pinchot, personal and political friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, not only when the latter was President, but at the present time, in a speech in the city last night came out flat-footed for United States Senator Robert M. La Follette, who is the next Republican candidate for the White House.

Unreservedly, Pinchot, lauded the statesman from the Northern lake land. He declared that Senator La Follette had been a man ahead of his times; that years ago La Follette denounced the policy which caused him to be proclaimed radical, which now were accepted as wise and just.

DEMANDS PROGRESSIVE.
Within the last year, the speaker declared, there came about a crystallization of opinion throughout the nation in favor of a man who would be both independent ideas and a progressive. "Since this morning," he added, "we have all been able to make up our minds who that man is."

"There was a pause of expectation," said Mr. Pinchot, "about Bob La Follette."

Then came a fairly hearty burst of applause from his hearers. Members of the insurgent club to the number of 250, who were having their annual dinner.

"Does your sentence," "Since this morning," he was asked a little later, "mean that you are now a candidate?"

"Of course it does," cheerfully responded the former forest ranger.

"Then Colonel Roosevelt is eliminated," said Mr. Pinchot.

COLONEL ELIMINATES HIMSELF.
"Colonel Roosevelt has eliminated himself," I should say," responded Pinchot.

"Do you come here as a speaker representing the views of Colonel Roosevelt?" asked a member of the audience.

"No, indeed," said the conservation advocate. "I don't know if Colonel Roosevelt is aware I am here."

He was still smiling as he said this.

CHAMP CLARK HAS REPLY FOR BRYAN

Declares That Democratic Harmony Has Been Attained in House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Speaker Champ Clark declares he had devoted the last three years chiefly to getting the House Democrats together and holding them together and that after 17 years of factional fighting the Democrats are united and, by the blessings of God will remain so.

"I did not do it all by a long shot," he added. "I had lots of help and very besomous, indubitable work deserves his full share of the honor."

Once despair in Democratic hearts, there is high hope now.

In this way the titular head of the Democratic lower House of Congress made indirect reply to the criticisms of William J. Bryan as to the Speakership House. Clark referred to the great importance of unity and wisdom among the Democrats to draw victory from not belonging to the Democratic party.

DEMOCRATS PULL TOGETHER.
"The most important feature of the extraordinary session of Congress from a political standpoint," said the speaker, "was the fact that we pulled together, worked together, fought together and won together. We replaced the old habit of defeat with the new habit of victory. We replaced the better fashion of taking counsel together with the better fashion of taking counsel apart."

"The trend of public opinion is toward the Democrats," President Taft's long trips seemed to have left things in status quo.

The speaker said the recent elections prove that where the tariff was the sole or principal issue, the Democrats won and that when President Taft vetoed the tariff bills it was inevitable that the tariff would be the leading issue next year.

"One of the most preposterous canards put into public circulation since Gutenberg invented movable type," added the speaker, "is the charge that I am in favor of the forcible annexation of Canada. There is not a fact in the universe on which to base such a slander."

DENIES ANNEXATION THREAT.
"I never at any time or place stated or even hinted such a wicked and quixotic scheme to any human being. I have never dreamed of such a thing and would oppose it to the utmost."

"I have frequently for years expressed the hope that there might be a union of the two countries by mutual consent and for the good of both. It always seemed to me a friendly suggestion, because we are neighbors of the same blood and speaking the same language, but as the Canadians do not seem to want that, there is an end of it."

"What I said at Fremont, Nebraska, was in response to a question from a person in the audience. I said I was in favor of anything but a union of the two countries by mutual consent. I did not say that it is an insane idea. I would be, or that I desired it to be, but that if Canada were agreeable, nine-tenths of the people of the United States would endorse the idea."

RAN DOWN POLECAT AND IS OSTRACIZED.
WILLOWS, Nov. 28.—Shunned by all men, with no place to eat and with no one willing to house him over night, was the experience here a few days ago of S. Albee, a roadmaster of the Southern Pacific, with headquarters in Red Bluff, according to a story that has just come to light here.

Albee spent the night in a box car.

On his way down from Red Bluff the roadmaster, riding on a gasoline velocipede, ran over a polecat that had gotten on the track. When he dismounted from his car and stepped into the depot office here his troubles began. A panic followed his appearance not only there, but in the other haunts of humankind, until Albee, in disgust sought his lonely abode.

STOCKTON BUSINESS MAN KILLS HIMSELF.
STOCKTON, Nov. 28.—William C. Mills, a young business man who shot himself in the abdomen at Eden Park, died at the Emergency hospital yesterday afternoon. The bullet perforated his intestines in several places, causing internal hemorrhages.

Although conscious until the last, Mills refused to give any reasons for killing himself. When first taken to the hospital he denied that he had inflicted the wound intentionally, claiming that he fired the shot accidentally. Chief of Police Briar declares, however, that there can be no doubt that the man deliberately shot himself.

Letters found upon his person indicate that he grew despondent over ill health and financial reverses.

But he was smiling as a man who is well satisfied with himself and what he is doing.

"That part of Pinchot's speech dealing with the next presidential candidate was as follows:

"The only persons not appreciating the vast growth of independence among the voters of the professional politicians. They do not seem to realize that the old passwords, the old war cries of parties are no longer good."

POLITICIANS STILL BLIND.
"They do not realize," but the people do, that the success of the country is greater than the success of any party."

"There has come about little by little in the United States a crystallization of the belief that this is true, a crystallization of a cause. And, being a cause, we need to have a man to lead that cause."

"I am sure that I know that man and I'd like to talk a little about him. Since this morning the field is clearer and the movement will go on faster than ever. I want to say a little about Bob La Follette."

"Four or five years ago few knew or understood him. They thought he was a radical. Now the things they then thought radical have become regarded commonplace. Yet, curiously, there are many thousands who oppose him because they still think he is a radical, while they have accepted his so-called radical ideas as truth."

NEED HONEST AND BRAVE MAN.
"For a leader we need a man who has honesty and courage. Bob La Follette has shown that he has the courage because he has been brave enough to be beaten again and again, and yet to stay and to triumph in the end. And no one questions that he has honesty of the highest type."

"There is one more attribute heeded and that is wisdom. The proof of this is in the manner in which Wisconsin flourished under his government. Those who opposed him in his career now admit they could not get along without him in this country. Pinchot spoke further about the progressive movement."

Aviator Weldon Cooke Finds Wife in Swoon After Attack by Robber.

STOCKTON, Nov. 28.—When Weldon Cooke, an aviator exhibiting here, hastened to his apartments from the lobby of the Stockton last evening in response to a telephone call from his wife he found her in a swoon on the floor and upon investigation discovered that a robber had entered the apartment, thrown Mrs. Cooke with great force on her bed and commanded her to keep quiet while he ransacked her for the receipts of the day's performance. The robber was frightened from the room before he secured any valuables.

REYES USED BY REBELS AS BLIND

General in Texas to Divert the Attention From Impending Mexican Revolution?

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 28.—Information which causes State Adjutant General Hutchings to believe that General Reyes was used in Texas to divert attention from the real impending Mexican revolution was laid before Governor Colquhoun yesterday.

General Hutchings said he obtained this information from interior Mexico, and that he believed it showed the revolution was being planned in Mexico and that its leaders were Francisco Vasquez, former vice-presidential candidate.

QUESTA RESIGNS.
DOUGLAS, Ariz., Nov. 28.—Manuel Questa, Mexican consul in Douglas, has sent his resignation to Mexico City, at the same time requesting permission to serve as a private in the army to fight the Reyesistas.

Questa, who was stationed at Kansas City while Diaz was president of Mexico, is an ardent supporter of Madero. It was he who ten days ago unearthed an alleged Magonista plot here and by the consequent seizure of large quantities of ammunition prevented a possible filibustering party from crossing the international border near this city.

Questa, who declared himself as anxious to aid in crushing the revolution, said: "More severity and less diplomacy is needed at present."

SLAIN COUPLE'S HOME IN NORTH

Sister Says Skeletons Found Near San Diego Are Those of Washington Pair.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 28.—The skeleton of a man and woman found near La Jolla several weeks ago are now believed to be those of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gustin of Belmont, Wash. The identification is made by Mrs. J. H. Cunningham of that place, a sister of Mrs. Gustin.

Photographs of the possessions of the dead couple, the woman's writing, etc., were sent by the police to Mrs. Cunningham, and today a letter was received from her saying that the unfortunate were her sister and the letter's husband. The identification is strengthened by a curious incident. Mrs. Gustin, it seems, had written to her sister about a beautiful house where the writer and her husband passed much time. Mrs. Cunningham says that the newspaper accounts of the place where the bodies were found tallies exactly with the locality which her sister had described. There is no clew to the cause of death, but the police stick to the theory of a double murder.

WOMAN WANTS LAW TO BAR MEAT AT BREAKFAST

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Meat for breakfast, or a morning repast, devoid of it? That was the question which buzzed about city hall corridors today, brought up by the filing of a communication from a woman, who asked the council to legislate on the problem. The ordinance as proposed would provide for a fine of $250, six months in jail, or both, for partaking of meat, fowl, or fish or any combination of the same as a breakfast food.

Quarantine Against Tubers From Worm-Infested Districts to Be Enforced.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 28.—Following his announcement of several days ago that he was contemplating placing a quarantine against all potatoes from worm-infested districts in Nevada so as to protect the state of California from the destructive insect, State Horticultural Commissioner Cook declared today that the quarantine order will be issued immediately.

"President Stubbs of the University of Nevada was in my office on the matter," said Cook, "and I have agreed if the Nevada university authorities will appoint inspectors to go over the potato growing districts of the state and report to us on those which are not infested we will not include the quarantine against those free districts."

GLANDERS SPREADING IN LOS ANGELES COUNTY.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—That glanders are near epidemic in Los Angeles county was admitted yesterday by Dr. W. B. Rawland, county veterinarian. Dr. Rawland stated that more than 100 valuable horses had died within two months.

These deaths, Dr. Rawland stated, were directly traced to the public water troughs, and through Dr. Rawland's efforts the county board of supervisors yesterday ordered all public troughs abolished at once.

SEVEN YEARS FOR SLAVER.
SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—Frank Snider, a Vancouver, B. C., real estate dealer, who was convicted last night of bringing Jeanie Nicholson, an unrepentant Scotch girl to the State of Washington for white slave purposes, was sentenced yesterday to serve seven years in the federal penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $1000 and costs.

Pure Food or Poor Food?
When so eminent a food expert as Dr. Wiley not only approves, but actually advocates the use of a product, you may be absolutely assured of its purity and healthfulness. In a recent speech Dr. Wiley commended in strongest terms the use of Cotton Oil as one of our most valuable food constituents, stating that undoubtedly better health would follow its general use. Cottonseed—the perfect shortening—has been the leading product in Cotton Oil cooking fats for over a quarter of a century. You will find the doctors all with you when you use Cottonseed in place of hog fat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—President Taft completed his annual message to congress yesterday and it was sent to the government printing office. Soda crackers are extremely sensitive to moisture.

Before the advent of Uneeda Biscuit the only persons who ever tasted fresh, crisp soda crackers were the people in the bakeries.

Imagine their trip from bakery to your table; exposed to air and moisture—kept in grocers' boxes and finally in a paper bag on the shelf in your pantry. Could they be the same as they were the day they were baked?

Now that we have Uneeda Biscuit—we have perfectly baked soda crackers—perfectly kept.

No moisture can reach them—no contaminating influences can affect their flavor—their goodness is imprisoned only to be liberated by you for you when you open the package.

Always in the moisture proof package. Never sold in bulk. 5 cents a package.

WOMEN REPULSE BIG CROWD THAT MOBS MRS. PANKHURST

Dr. Anna Shaw Slaps Face of Man Who Tears Colors From Auto.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Dr. Anna Shaw, leader of the national woman's suffrage movement, yesterday slapped a man's face while defending the colors of the suffragists during a meeting at 179 and Broad streets, where 5000 brokers, clerks and office boys heard a speech by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst of London. Some remarks derogatory to men in general caused a number to rush at the automobile in which sat the suffragists. Doctor Shaw, leaning far out on the torpedo body, dealt a resounding slap on the cheek of the first besieger. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, standing on the steps of the sub-treasury, shouted scornfully at the men who made the attack.

Mrs. Blatch made a speech introducing Mrs. Pankhurst, whom she described as "women's greatest statesman" with a message "for you poor men." This remark caused cat calls and hisses. Mounted policemen and two foot policemen were powerless to stem the tide of men who surged up around the motor car and tried to tear off the suffragist colors draped around the tonneau. It was at this point that Doctor Shaw leaped out and, swinging her hand for movement, her flat palm striking the nearest man a blow which stung and which knocked him from the automobile. Thwarted in their attempt, the men fell back before the militant suffragists. After the demonstration, the automobile quickly moved away, leaving the men so dazed that they could not raise more than a half-hearted cheer.

Love Fight Fatal

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 23.—George Spitzer, a blacksmith of Longvale, in Mendocino county, shot and instantly killed Joseph H. Marshall at that place late yesterday. Marshall is said to have made threats against Spitzer, who was attempting to draw an automatic revolver when Spitzer shot him through the heart with a rifle. The killing of Marshall occurred on the county road, near Spitzer's shop.

Marshall came here from Oregon about eight years ago. He had become enamored of a young woman who resides near Longvale, but his attentions were resented by several young men of the neighborhood. Spitzer sided with the young men against Marshall, and this caused bad feeling between them.

At the time of the shooting the men were having a heated argument, and when Marshall attempted to draw his weapon Spitzer shot him down.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Lily Middleton, wife of John A. Middleton, vice-president of the Lehigh Valley road and director of many railroad companies, was yesterday granted a separation and $10,000 a year alimony by Superior Court Justice Cushman. Mrs. Middleton charged that in December, 1910, her husband had confined in a lunatic asylum and that he was abusive and brutal in manner.

Quietly Divorced

SAN RAPHAEL, Nov. 23.—Alleging desertion and non-support, as well as incompatibility of temperament, Mrs. Carlisle B. Spinney, daughter of E. L. Bonqui, a wealthy resident of Ross and head of the Bosqui Publishing Company of San Francisco, was granted a divorce from Charles S. Spinney, a real estate dealer of San Francisco, by Superior Judge E. T. Zook of Marin county yesterday.

The suit was uncontested, and only Mrs. Spinney and her brother-in-law, Attorney A. J. Treat of San Francisco, appeared as witnesses. Her husband, plaintiff alleged, had failed to provide her with the necessities of the life she had been accustomed to before marriage, and had also humiliated her before her children. Her statements were supported by her brother-in-law.

The filing of the suit had been kept secret. No alimony was asked for. Mrs. Spinney will return to her parents at their winter home in San Francisco tomorrow.

The Languid Woman

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

IHAVE noticed a lack of enthusiasm in some women of late that denotes one of three things—laziness, stupidity or indifference. I cannot think that women are stupid, nor are they so satiated with pleasure and entertainment that they are blasé, therefore I must name it laziness. The women I refer to must be women without mind or occupation; their blood seems chilled running ice water instead of blood; they walk through shops looking around indifferently and buying nothing. They go to a theater, see a play, but can't tell you what it's all about. When they leave the theater they will go to call upon a friend and talk for half an hour, but say nothing and remember nothing when they leave. This condition may exist among the well-to-do, idle women of today or it may be a pose; I am inclined to think it is the latter.

Their faces are not nice to look upon, although they may be called beauties. What is lacking? Why, love, ambition, appreciation of others and life itself. I am inclined to think that these women are self-centered and their indifferent manner is a pose, as there is no woman who cannot be roused to enthusiasm at one time or another. But these women of whom I speak lack the greatest charm given to a human being—that is, the appreciation of good and bad.

I know that only clever people can be indifferent to bad things, but ordinary people should cultivate an appreciation of cleverness if only to prove a reflection. Emulate clever people, try to be interested, if not in yourself, in the interesting things of life.

The day has passed when any woman, no matter how beautiful, can sit back to be looked at and loved for her face and figure alone. She now has the competition always of youth and brains—two strong rivals to beauty. Listless loveliness will pass by unnoticed today in the presence of youth and vivacity.

Every one can be young if she keeps her spirit young. Ambition is youthful. Enthusiasm is youthful. Wit without sarcasm is youthful. So wake up, dear languid, indifferent women, or you will lose much in the running. Try to find as much loveliness in every one as you would care to have in yourself. Remember, to give is to gain.

Lillian Russell

MRS. B. F.—I do not approve of non-greasy creams. They do not benefit the skin. While non-greasy creams are popular, it is well to remember that it is the oils in creams which make them helpful in preserving the complexion. I am sending you the recipe for a delightful cold cream, which I have used for years on my own skin.

M. R. T.—If the eyebrows are too thin they destroy the charm of expression and make the face insipid. There is only one way of stimulating the growth and beauty of the eyebrows and that is by gently brushing them night and morning. This makes them soft, glossy and each tiny hair stands by itself. Small brushes for the purpose of the eyebrows in drug shops. Should you live where it is not possible to procure these little brushes, then use a baby's tooth brush and use that instead. If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and request I will forward you the recipe for an inexpensive eyebrow tonic. In applying the tonic, only a bit is required and delicately touched to the brow in a fine line, for narrow brows, not broad, uneven ones, are desired. In shaping the brows use a gently pinching movement, starting from the temples and working toward the nose. Take up small pieces of flesh, pinch slightly, and then another, etc. Apply a little oil before starting.

MRS. R. M.—The most effective remedy for superfluous hair is the electric needle. Go to some reliable electrolysis operator and have the hair removed. It is quick and sure and is harmless if the work is done properly. Superfluous hair is a most unfortunate blemish. To beauty and should be removed before the growth gets any heavier. I cannot give you advice about the articles you mention, but shall send you a recipe for superfluous hair if you will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

MARION—I am glad you have derived so much benefit from my little sermons. There are many beauty specialists who recommend the milk diet for gaining beauty. They declare that it will give you a clear skin, glowing with the rosy hue of health, lustrous eyes, scarless lips, and a sweet figure. Some specialists put their patients on a complete milk diet, saying that it substitutes good, rich blood for impure, bad blood, induces a healthy circulation, feeds worn-out, tingling nerves until they become normal again, and gives a person a gain in flesh from three to six pounds weekly. No solid food is eaten while on this diet and five quarts of milk are taken daily. Three glassfuls are taken upon arising, three more glassfuls two hours later, and so on until the five quarts of milk have been entirely consumed. It is important that you drink the milk slowly. Take five minutes to a glass of milk and hold each swallow in the mouth until it is thoroughly salivated. If you drink the milk down as you would water, an attack of biliousness will surely ensue.

They were married in San Francisco in 1894 and have three children, Arthur, aged 16; William, aged 14; and Julia, aged 14.

In her complaint Mrs. Peterson alleges that her husband threatened to kill her and the children on November 11 last, and was only prevented from carrying out his threat because she had surreptitiously removed the cartridges from his revolver. Drunkenness also is charged. The community property is valued at $14,000.

'WETS' PLAN TO MAKE BERKELEY 'EXTRA DRY'

U. S. POLICY IN ALASKA IS SCORED

Thompson Brands "Power of Attorney" Mining Claims "a Curse."

Canadian Law Better for Prospector, He Tells the Arctic Club.

SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—"Power of attorney mining claims have been the curse of Alaska," said Dr. Alfred Thompson, member of the Canadian parliament for Yukon territory, at the Arctic Club dinner last night.

In view of Secretary of the Interior Fisher's repeated citing of the Yukon mining laws as a model for Alaska, there was deep interest in Dr. Thompson's address. He said:

"In Alaska you give a patent to your placer claims and you permit the staking of association groups by the use of power of attorney. In this way a staker may acquire large tracts of mining land at a very small cost and thus tie up a rich country and not work it himself or permit others to work it.

LEASE AND RESTRICTION.
"Instead we lease our placer ground for one year and restrict the use of power of attorney to two, which may be given to the men who go out to discover new gold bearing creeks. The discoverer is thus rewarded by being able to get a much larger claim, but any subsequent staking on that creek can stake out claimers.

"We do not give a patent, but we do make continuity of title by making it mandatory on the gold commissioner to renew placer claims if the conditions laid down in the placer act are complied with. In this way we try to encourage the prospector and discourage the holding of large tracts of land for purely speculative purposes. That our title is satisfactory is best proven by the fact that large amounts of capital from the United States and England are invested or being invested in the placers of the Yukon."

Grand Jury Probing Shaker Death Case

Will Investigate Chloroforming of Sick Woman to Expedite End.

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 28.—How Egbert Gillett and Elizabeth Sears, members of the Shaker colony near Kissimmee, assisted a co-religionist "out of life" by euthanasia, will be taken up by a grand jury today. Both Gillett and Miss Sears admit they gave chloroform to Sadie Marchant to expedite her death because, they say, she was in the final stage of tuberculosis. A medical examination disclosed, it is declared, that Sister Marchant was not so near death as Gillett and Sister Sears reported. Gillett has been in jail for several weeks.

PATRONAGE IS STUMBLING BLOCK IN WAY OF PROGRESS

DISTRIBUTION IS WORRYING SOLONS

Pittance of $200 Day for Each Branch Felt Not to Be Enough.

Alameda Delegation Will Be a Power in Matter of Reapportionment.

(By W. P. DeWOLF.)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 28.—Distribution of patronage to the satisfaction of even a small majority of the members of the Senate and House bids fair to prove a stumbling block in the way of progress at the very outset of the extraordinary session of the thirty-ninth general assembly, which convened yesterday. During the regular session, the per diem allotment for clerk hire, etc., in Senate and House was $500 each.

During the present session, however, both Senate and House must worry along on $200 per day each, and there is no way by which that per diem amount can be increased. It is thus nominated in the bond, so to speak; that is to say, it is made mandatory upon the legislature by the members of the Senate and House who completed their labors and stepped back from the limelight these many moons ago. In other words, the Legislature of 1907-08 caused to be embodied in the State Constitution a clause limiting the per diem expenditures in Senate and House at regular sessions to $500 each and at extraordinary sessions to $200 each.

PRUNING PAINFUL.
There is no disposition apparent on the part of members to attempt evasion of the mandate, but the pruning process necessary to keep the daily expenditures of both houses within its provisions is proving painful to members and attaches alike. It is, however, probable the matter will be definitely disposed of some time today.

An indication of what confronts the legislators is gained by citing the fact that in the Senate alone, with one attaché for each member at $5 per day, the Senate allowance of $200 per day would be consumed. Double up on the jobs and doubtless be the order issued to such employees of Senate and House as escape the pruning shears. Cutting down right and left will be resorted to, and when it ceases the survivors will be few and far between.

There are many leaders in the Senate and House who are outspoken in their denunciation of the law governing legislative expenditures as at present framed, among them A. E. Boynton, president pro tem of the Senate.

REAPPORTIONMENT STEPS.
Two steps in furtherance of State reapportionment were taken at the capitol yesterday, the first late in the afternoon, when the House committee on apportionment met and voted to report no bill out of committee unless it had the support of a majority of the committee, and the second when the entire Alameda county delegation went into caucus on the subject at 8 o'clock last night in the judiciary committee's room. The intent of the action by the House committee is to curtail the number of bills dealing with reapportionment which reach the floor of the House, by a process of elimination, presumably in the interest of quick and definite results.

There are seventeen members of the House committee on apportionment, with Alameda county members, L. D. Bennett of San Jose, chairman, and under the rule adopted yesterday a bill must have a majority of nine before being reported out of committee. Hitherto it has required but a majority of a quorum to report a bill. The action taken by the committee is considered arbitrary in some quarters, but is said to have the sanction of the working majority of the House as a whole. The personnel of the committee, other than Bennett is as follows: Ellis, Bishop, Butler, Hinchey, Griffin, Griffiths, Hinkle, Kehoe, Randall, Rogers of Alameda, Rutherford, Young, Slater, Gerdes, Joel and Beatty.

ALL ARE PRESENT.
Every member of the Alameda county delegation was present at the caucus last night, and with Perry Haviland, surveyor of Alameda county, went carefully over the proposed changes in the assembly and senatorial district lines so far as they apply to the county mentioned. The session was somewhat protracted and was marked by the adoption of a resolution for redistricting the State on the basis of population. The aim of this resolution is to prevent a forced cohesion of Alameda and San Francisco counties along assembly and senatorial lines. Two committees on redistricting lines, court assembly districts, were appointed and one on redistricting the senatorial districts. The personnel of the three committees are as follows:

East end of county—Rogers, Crosby and Smith. West end of county—Fitzgerald, Callahan, Clark and Young. Senatorial—Stimson, Strobbridge, Hans and Tyrell. The members of these committees will outline a plan of reapportionment and report back to a caucus of the entire Alameda county delegation, called for 1 o'clock Monday afternoon. At the close of last night's caucus County Surveyor Haviland returned to Oakland. It is expected, however, that he will return to Sacramento in time to attend the next caucus of the delegation.

Although definite action in the matter of reapportionment was taken by the caucus last night, it appears certain the delegation will accept of no redistricting plan which does not provide for another assemblyman in Alameda county. At least such is to be inferred from statements made by individual members of the caucus after its close.

DELEGATION DOMINATES.
Pursuing further the subject of what Alameda county will and will not accept in the way of reapportionment, it is being pointed out here that there is a strong probability that when the issue comes to a vote the delegation from Alameda will occupy a dominating position. That is to say, the deciding votes will rest with that delegation. Should results bear out this prediction—it is one pretty generally made around the capitol—there is no question but what the county will be granted any demand it makes.

Thus early in the session lines are being sharply drawn on the reapportionment question, the tendency of representatives from the so-called "country districts" to coalesce being particularly marked. It now looks as though there would be three and possibly four distinct factions seeking supremacy on the floors of Senate and House when the question comes to vote. Assemblyman Randall's bill, for instance, is decidedly favorable to the country districts, or is at least so considered, hence it is assured the support of the country members. It is, however, possible that a bill drawn along even broader lines will be injected into the fight by the country delegations and receive their solid support. Whatever the action taken, barring a trade between San Francisco and Los Angeles, an alliance to improbable as to be hardly worthy of mention, Alameda county is in a position to stand pat and get what it wants in the way of reapportionment hot-terment.

PASS UP PATRONAGE.
Contrary to all expectations, the Senate passed up the matter of patronage for the time being just before the close of yesterday afternoon's session, and took up the matter of introduction of bills. Among those offered was a trio which, if passed, will establish the office of county registrar in Alameda county. The bills are numbered 3, 4 and 5, and were introduced in their numerical order by Senators Stetson, Strobbridge and Tyrell.

The first creates the office of Registrar of Alameda county; the second sets forth the registrar's duties, etc., and the third establishes the salary and the number of deputies. The latter places the registrar's annual compensation at $3000 and supplies him with a chief deputy at a monthly salary of $125. The last bill further provides for the employment of clerks as follows: On years when the great register is being renewed, ten clerks for six months, ten for three months at $100 per month each. In cases of special elections ten clerks for one month at $100 per month each. At general State district primaries, ten clerks for six months at $100 each per month. Elections in extraordinary session yesterday morning. In addition, the corridors and the rotunda were decorated in honor of the event with large bunches of shaggy chrysanthemums of various hues and with ferns and other greenery. Brooming potted plants, placed on the wide windowsills in Senate and House, were an agreeable innovation that came in for much favorable comment.

FLAGS ARE DRAPE.
An attractive and patriotic feature, which called forth commendation from both members and visitors, was the bullet-torn battle flags borne by California regiments in the civil and Spanish-American wars, which adorn the walls of the rotunda on the second floor. These flags, regimental and national, are draped in black walnut frames behind heavy glass, each frame carrying an inscription denoting the regiment or company to which it belonged and describing the battles in which it formed the rallying point for California soldiers. The radiant colors of these flags agreeably brighten the otherwise somberness of the rotunda, and prove most interesting feature to all visitors to the capitol.

CHECK PASSER WILL ABOLISH VICTORY FOR PROHIBITION SCORED

Long Crime Record Sends S. E. Duncan to Prison; Three Prior Convictions.

The Plea for Probation Turned Down by Judge Wells When History Is Unearthed.

When S. E. Duncan got drunk several weeks ago and forged a check for $6.50, he paved the way for a state's prison term of seven years, which was given to him this forenoon in the criminal department of the superior court, after the jurist on the recommendation of Assistant Probation Officer S. Bruce Wright, had denied his petition for probation. The latter's investigation of the record of Duncan brought to light a career of crime that began when he was twenty years of age and resulted in three prior convictions. In denying probation, Judge Wells said that in the face of his record it would be a disgrace to the probation system to apply its benefits to his case. Duncan pleaded for mercy, declaring that he was a sick man and asking that instead of being sent to the penitentiary he be committed to a public institution to be treated for chronic alcoholism.

"Liquor and domestic troubles are to blame for my criminal record," said Duncan, "and I think if I were cured of alcoholism I could lead an upright life." Judge Wells replied to this that it was fortunate for Duncan that no prior conviction had been placed against him by the district attorney's office, in which event it would have been the mandate of the law that his sentence be fourteen years instead of seven. The court also noted in assistant probation officer Wright's report that Duncan had complained about "never having had a chance in life to make good," and in this connection Judge Wells said:

"It would appear from your career of crime that you have had all the chance in the world to mend your ways and have improved your total unworthiness to be at large."

Duncan's record of crime begins in January, 1897, when he was arrested in Louisville, Ky., for passing Confederate money. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced in the federal court to serve eighteen months in the Ohio state prison. After his release in March, 1900, Duncan was divorced from his wife. He immediately came to California and in 1907 was convicted of forgery in the superior court of this county and sentenced to serve two years in San Quentin. He had been out of the penitentiary only a short time when he was arrested for forgery in San Francisco, convicted of the crime and returned to San Quentin for ten months. In 1910 he passed another fictitious check in San Francisco, but this charge was dropped and in March, 1909, he was arrested and sentenced to San Quentin for a term of one year and a half for passing a check which led to his sentence by Judge Wells today.

Duncan served with credit in the Spanish-American war, according to the probation officer, but this is the only creditable incident of his career since attaining his majority.

The Judges, However, Will Not Lose Their Jobs, But Some Clerks Will.

Salaries of Supreme Justices to Be Increased, Beginning January 1.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—In every state of the Union there will pass out of existence on January 1 next a historic court practically as old as the state itself. On that day seventy-seven United States circuit courts will cease to do business at the 276 different places they have been accustomed to meet. Arrangements for this change are being perfected in Washington and throughout the circuit.

The elimination of the circuit courts was one of the reforms provided for in the new Judiciary code, enacted by Congress on March 3, 1911, to become effective January 1, 1912. The date there should be only the district courts, the nine circuit courts of appeal and the supreme court.

COURTS NOT NEEDED.
The existence of the circuit courts since 1891, when the circuit courts of appeal were created, has been regarded as expensive and superfluous.

The twenty-nine circuit judges will not lose their jobs, as they will continue to sit in the circuit courts of appeal and help out in the district courts. All the clerks of the circuit courts will have their positions abolished. At the same time, restrictions will be placed upon the amount that district court clerks may draw as salaries. Hereafter it will be impossible for a clerk to receive more than $3500.

JUSTICE'S SALARIES.
The passing of the circuit courts is but one of the reforms of the new code. After January 1 the chief justice of the United States will receive $15,000 per annum, and each associate justice $14,500.

Under the new code jurors for federal courts will receive their summons by registered mail, instead of visits by United States deputy marshals and the government will have federal court juries, instead of three. Still another reform will come in the shape of a prohibition against members of Congress practicing before the court of claims here.

COMMISSION MEETING.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 28.—The regular meeting of the Board of Electricity will be held at the city hall this evening. The total earnings of the municipal plant for the month of October, according to the report of Arthur Goldsworthy, secretary of the board, is $11,075.80. The total cost of production was $6345.40, leaving the net earnings $4730.40.

The temperance forces expressed satisfaction over Gelder's proposal to submit the question of barring outside liquor dealers selling in Berkeley to a vote of the people, as they had planned to circulate a petition to effect an expression of sentiment on this very issue. The prohibitionists claim that they will be able to win a vote to make Berkeley completely dry is taken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—"Save me, save me, Oh, save me." Three times the shout rang out. There was no one passing in the street save a lone woman. She heard the cries. They came from the building of the Columbia, police boys club, where there is usually no one about at so late an hour of the night. The structure was shrouded in darkness. The woman listened. Once again there came the piteous plea for aid. She ran to the corner of Sixteenth and Guerrero streets, half a block distant. She found Policeman Frank Pennell. He hurried back with her and surveyed the dark outlines of the building. As he stood by there came again that cry, "save me, save me, Oh, save me." LEARN TO SWIM, COLLEGE MANDATE

Emulating of Finny Tribe May Be Made Compulsory at State University.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 28.—A movement to make swimming a compulsory accomplishment in the university was started today by the college newspapers. A large number of drownings, which have been avoided had the victims known how to swim is pointed out in an editorial in the Daily Californian, which in part is as follows:

"Universities can contribute at least something to this side of education by insisting that their students be able to swim before leaving college. Many have already taken this step, and the others should waste as little time as possible in following suit."

To be more specific, the Californian believes that coming the swimming should be instituted here in the university. With our present facilities, this would be a simple matter, requiring neither elaborate plans nor additional instructors. Ability to swim, the length of the tank in Strawberry Canyon, could be made a requirement of the freshman gymnasium course, without which credit in the course would not be granted. This would mean that all freshmen must be able to swim before leaving college. In this way we would be sure that every one with a University of California education would be able to save himself from drowning in at least one case where only a few strokes mean safety. We consider this a matter of great importance and hope that steps will soon be taken to institute some sort of system of compulsory swimming in the university."

SAN FRANCISCANS BUY PIANOS HERE

Saving Money Is Making Money; Attend to Your Buying Now.

Since the announcement in the daily papers of our intention to close our Oakland store we have sold more pianos than have ever been sold in Oakland or anywhere in the West in the same length of time. In fact, every music loving family in town is bestirring itself to secure one of the wonderful bargains we are offering in pianos and player pianos.

The inducements offered during this closing out sale are certainly tempting many a man to purchase a piano who had not been considering buying until this opportunity presented itself.

Of all those who enter our store very few go away without a piano, and several have purchased two instruments each. In fact, we are doing a phenomenal business with all classes of people, and including many professional musicians and music teachers.

A number of San Francisco people have been attracted by the sensational prices and liberal terms we are offering, and have bought pianos here to be delivered in San Francisco, thus proving conclusively what a great opportunity this closing out offers.

By December 15th all our pianos must be sold and everything must be out of the house so that the Ellis Furniture Company can move in. It is because we must sell our tremendous stock of high grade pianos within in so short a time limit that we have marked our goods at prices absolutely without precedent, without regard to cost or profit.

Here you can make a saving from $125 to $275, and on some of the grand pianos you can now make a saving of $350. But the main thing is to act at once. Come down to our store this evening or tomorrow morning and select your piano.

We'll be glad to have you pay all cash; however, if you cannot see your way clear to do that, pay us $50 or $25; even as little as $10 or $5 will secure your piano, the rest you can pay a little each week or month, and you will never miss the money while doing it. Open evenings during the closing out.

DR. J. A. JACKSON DENTIST

You cannot tie a halter on a man in a dentist's chair and persuade him to empty his pocket of the precious gold coin. The man sitting in the chair has something to say about it and he says it in a way that is hard to ignore. I am not a hypnotist, then how can you account for the many residents in this city who are pleased to have me do their dental work? The point is here, truth travels slowly, but when it gets there it is going to stick. If you want good work at honest prices call and have a talk with me. I will be pleased to examine your teeth, make you an estimate and you are under no obligation to have your work done.

FAMOUS SPEED KINGS TO JOIN RACERS AT THE MOTORDROME

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)

Ralph Mulford, driver of the winning Lozier, in the seventh Vanderbilt cup race, held at Savannah, Ga., yesterday, may be one of the group of speed kings stars to be seen at the Oakland Motordrome this winter. Mulford is one of the youngest racing pilots in the world and holds the distinction of having been recognized as the premier road driver of the world. This honor was his until a few months ago. He reclaims, and rightly, the title once more to reign supreme among the pilots of high speed motor cars.

To defeat the best Europe has to offer in speed monsters is to accomplish a feat, nothing less than wonderful. Jack Prince now has under way arrangements for the bringing here of no less lights than Bob Burman, Tetzlaff, De Palma, Merz and others of the better known drivers. In some circles it is rumored by those who claim to know that Esney Oldfield will be re-instated with in the next month, in which event his first appearance on any speedway would be the local one.

The appearance of Mulford in the west will be his first one. Ralph is second to none when it comes to sending a car over the road at the highest rate of speed possible, but his ability to manipulate a high powered car on a small speedway is unknown out this way. In Indianapolis last May he was a close contestant and drove the first stock car across the line at the finish. His position in the race was second.

An automobile race is to be added to next week's program of events on the Motordrome. Prince is determined to give the best card it is possible to secure at this time and is making an effort to get the best cars on the coast lined up for his next affair. The probable starters judging from conditions at present are the Stutz car, an unknown quantity here, that is one of the fastest cars in the country, the Maxwell, Reo, Buick and Comet. Four of the five named are said to be sure to start. All are exceedingly speedy. The Buick has made some record time on the Elmhurst racer, so also has the Reo. The Maxwell and Comet have both been seen in action before and their capabilities are fairly well known.

In the motorcycle class the same group of riders who performed so spectacularly last week will again be ready for a speedy tussle with chances bright for still better records than established up to date.

WHARVES ROTTED; $4,000,000 FOR REPAIRS

Supposed Permanent Piers at San Francisco Found in a Bad State.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—That the state will be forced to spend $4,000,000 of the recently voted $9,000,000 bond issue for the rebuilding of supposedly permanent wharves along the San Francisco waterfront, was the announcement made yesterday following an official report of divers, who have been employed by the engineering department of the state board of harbor commissioners. The report showed that with the exception of four piers, numbers 34, 36, 38 and 40, the entire waterfront, including the sea wall, under control of the board, is in a dilapidated condition resulting from poor construction of concrete cylinders supporting the superstructure. In this particular it is shown that the concrete in many instances has crumbled away, leaving only the wooden pilings which are rapidly being eaten away by the teredo.

In addition to this, it is shown that not only are the concrete docks north of the Ferry building in such dangerous condition that they will have to be condemned and rebuilt, but at least four of the supposedly permanent docks on the south side are in a condition equally as bad. These are piers Nos. 10, 12, 42 and 44. Except for the docks built during the existence of the late board, the only construction reported in good condition is the Ferry building, exclusive of the slip approaches.

CONSTRUCTION IS FAULTY. The report shows that at the time of construction sacks of lime, sand and loose rock were dumped into the caissons in some cases to within ten or twelve feet from the bottom to the top of the cylinders.

In a report signed by President Stanford in 1908 and which was taken as a basis in estimating the amount of the bond issue, it was stated that the then supposedly permanent piers were in good shape and that little would have to be expended in the way of repairs.

REPORT OF DIVERS. The divers' report, which covers seven-teen closely typed pages and is the combined result of the efforts of Divers Martin Lund and George Abrahamson, is accompanied by numerous rough sketches, showing the particular piers and cylinders referred to, and is in part as follows:

"Examination of the cylinders under the various docks and piers shows that many of them have been carelessly constructed. In many cases the concrete is of such poor quality as readily to be broken with the hand without the aid of the hammer, as found in piers 9, 21 and 27, all of which are in bad condition."

"At piers 7, 9, 11, 21, 23, 25 and 27 all north of the ferry building, fully two-thirds of the cylinders show that the portion near the mud line has fallen away, leaving the supporting wooden pile exposed to the attack of the teredo."

"In some cases where the wooden or steel casing is still intact, soundings show that the casing for a distance of two feet up above the mudline is hollow and contains no concrete. As soon as the casing gives away these cylinders will collapse unless they remain upright by suspension from the superstructure."

The report also gives in detail the present condition of the slips and dolphins at the Ferry building. With hardly an exception, it is shown that the cylinders in fair condition are so few, that the fact that the structures remain standing remains a puzzle to the engineers.

KUBELIK'S MASTERFUL VIOLIN RENDITIONS DELIGHTFUL TO HEAR

Kubelik's genius has been epoch-making in the history of violin playing, his whole style of performance being strikingly original. But novel as are his feats of virtuosity, his immense hold upon his audiences is chiefly due to his aggressive individuality, and the passionate warmth of his playing. And every one who has ever heard him play, every lover of music, will be inclined to know that the famous Bohemian violinist has entered into an exclusive agreement to make records for the Victor.

The first of the Kubelik records have just been issued with the December list of new Victor Records, and three numbers, "Pavane Serenade," "Zapovedo" and "Perpetuum mobile" exhibit well his firm, pure and beautiful tone, his admirable technique and the amazing ease and freedom of his playing. It is indeed fortunate for present-day music-lovers and for posterity that satisfactory reproductions of the art of this young virtuoso have at last been made.

The Victor Light Opera company gives a brilliant and perfectly sung medley from the new musical play, "The Quaker Girl," which is rich in charming music and dainty lyrics, and this talented organization also revives the favorite musical comedy, "A Runaway Girl," in its presentation of the gems from this successful production of a few years ago.

And there are a host of other good things from the musical successes of the present theatrical season given in instrumental and vocal form. These numbers include a delightful vocal potpourri and an instrumental waltz, "Don Juan's Serenade," Reed Miller delivers in an impassioned manner a charming old love song, "This All That I Can Say." Maurice Burkhardt contributes an amusing German comedy record, "Bring back my Lena to Me." George F. Watson gives a fine rendition of one of his favorite yodel songs, "Schneider Does Your Mother Know Your Out?" and the Peerless Quartet contributes two attractive ballads.

A record of surpassing beauty is the lovely "Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin," sung by the Victor Opera Chorus. A novelty presented this month, which will likely prove a most attractive innovation is a vocal medley of popular song hits, "Snider Successes," brilliantly rendered by the Victor Mixed Chorus. Charles Gilbert Spross plays a piano solo of a dainty little Debussy number, "Et Bateau," which is certain to be appreciated by admirers of this unique and eccentric writer. Reinald Werrenrath gives vigorous and spirited rendering of the great bravura song, "Don Juan's Serenade." Reed Miller delivers in an impassioned manner a charming old love song, "This All That I Can Say." Maurice Burkhardt contributes an amusing German comedy record, "Bring back my Lena to Me." George F. Watson gives a fine rendition of one of his favorite yodel songs, "Schneider Does Your Mother Know Your Out?" and the Peerless Quartet contributes two attractive ballads.

$1,000.00 Reward

During the past week the San Francisco daily papers contained the following classified advertisement:

CHALMERS 36, 1912

Model, minus a wheel, some paint, a fender and the owner's confidence, for sale at an exceedingly reasonable price. Address Box 38-B, Evening Post.

The undersigned hereby offers $1000.00 reward to the person proving this a bona-fide advertisement of an owner wishing to sell his Chalmers car as described and for the reasons given.

Chalmers "36" Torpedo.

We believe this advertisement was so worded in order to use the widely known name of "Chalmers" as a means of attracting attention in the form of replies, in response to which they would attempt to sell their own machines, meantime discrediting the recognized merit of Chalmers construction.

YOUTH IS PLACED ON FIVE YEARS' PROBATION

Ole Hagen stole a set of carpenter tools in Oakland and was arrested while trying to sell the property. He was admitted to probation for a period of five years this morning by Judge Wells, sitting in the criminal department of the superior court. The excuse for the crime was that he was in need of money and was ashamed to let his friends know his financial distress. Judge Wells took into consideration the young man's excellent previous record and the fact that he had a number of responsible friends to look after him and granted him the future, in granting probation to him.

BUSINESS COURT
PROVES SUCCESS

The Commercial Arbitration Tribunal Saves Thousands of Dollars in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The commercial arbitration court, established a few months ago by the New York Chamber of Commerce, already has proved its merit, according to a preliminary report just submitted. Twenty firms and corporations have submitted controversies to the arbitration committees in an informal manner with the most satisfactory results. Merchants and corporations have shown themselves eager to take advantage of the new plan.

Most of the twenty disputes settled would have dragged along for years if they had been carried to the regular courts and thousands of dollars in litigation expense was saved. The scheme provides that parties to any business or commercial controversy may sign an agreement that they will be bound by the decisions of the arbitration committee. The arbitrators have the power to summon witnesses and compel the production of books and their decision has the force and effect of a judgment of the supreme court. Each party pays $50 to defray the expenses of the hearings.

GOVERNORS TOUR
EAST; BOOM WEST

Special Train Reaches Chicago On 4000-Mile Trip of Exploitation.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Chicago housed today the governors of a chain of states extending from Illinois to the Pacific Coast when the "Governors' Special" arrived from Minneapolis and St. Paul on the first leg of its 4000-mile trip undertaken to exploit in eastern cities the agriculture and mining advantages of the Northwest.

"Before we end our trip many a jobless man, now shivering in the streets of New York, Philadelphia or Washington will be listening to the call of the west and many an eastern merchant will be on more intimate terms with the great country northwest of the Mississippi," said one governor, in explaining the purpose of the mission. Five carloads of the products of the various states are to be displayed in the eastern cities.

At the station here the governors and their party, accompanied by C. B. Brown, publicity director of the Panama-Pacific Exposition, who represents the Governor of California, were met by a committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce. Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado were represented by governors or other state officials.

Soon after their arrival they were taken to see the carloads of potatoes, pumpkins, apples and other products of the soil on exhibition at Chicago's annual land show.

Tonight the governors are to attend a banquet and an hour after midnight they will leave for Kalamazoo, Mich. Going by way of Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and Buffalo, they are to travel through New York State, and after detouring to Washington, Philadelphia and Baltimore they are to arrive in New York City December 11. The tour will end at St. Paul December 16.
